Sisodia quits govt after SC rejects bail plea, Jain follows

ANUP VERMA & SHRUTI KAKKAR
@ New Delhi

HOURS after the Supreme Court refused to entertain Delhi Deputy CM Manish Sisodia's petition challenging his arrest by the CBI in the liquor policy scam, he and other incarcerated colleague Satyendar Jain resigned as ministers in the AAP government.

Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal accepted the resignations. In a late night announcement, Revenue Minister Kailash Gahlot was given additional charge of finance, PWD, power and home held by Sisodia. The outgoing deputy CM's other portfolios like education, health and services were allotted to Social Welfare Minister Raaj Kumar Anand as additional charge. "The work of Delhi should not be interrupted, so Kejriwal accepted the resignations," said AAP's Rajya Sabha MP Sanjay Singh. Sisodia's resignation came a couple of days after his arrest while Jain put in his papers almost eight months after his arrest by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) in a case related to money laundering. Sisodia was handling 18 of the total 33 departments of the Delhi government. He was directly monitoring several critical government projects, including streetscaping and traffic decongestion plans, ahead of the G20 summit. He was also the administrative face of the government.

In the SC, when counsel A M Singhvi mentioned the matter before a bench of Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud and Justice P S Narasimha, they said Sisodia has alternative remedies for getting the FIR quashed under Sec 482 CrPC. He can also apply for bail in a lower court, the bench said. "Just because an incident happens in Delhi doesn't mean we are approached. It will set a very wrong precedent," Justice Narasimha said.

India's economy slows to 4.4% in Q3

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

INDIA's economic growth, as measured by the gross domestic product (GDP), slowed to 4.4% in the October-December 2022 quarter against 6.3% and 13.5% in second and first quarters, respectively. The deceleration was driven by a combination of factors including the continued weakness in the manufacturing sector, muted consumer demand and base effect because the National Statistics Office (NSO) revised the 2021-22 GDP growth to 9.1% from 8.7% estimated earlier.

The manufacturing sector's output, going by the gross value added in the third quarter of 2022-23, shrank 1.1% compared with a growth of 1.3% in the year-ago period.

In the second quarter of this fiscal, the sector had contracted 3.6%.

In addition, trade, hotels, transport, communication and services grew at a slower pace of 9.7% in the third quarter against 15.6% in the second.

Although the latest figures signalled the economy is powering down, the NSO's second advance estimates retained GDP growth for the current fiscal at 7%, the same rate projected in the first advance estimates released in January.

Terming the 7% growth forecast 'very realistic', chief economic advisor V Anantha Nageswaran said the economy will have to expand 5-5.1% in Q4 for this to happen.

"The trends... indicate that achieving that growth rate in Q4 is well within the realm of possibility and, therefore, the 7% real GDP growth estimate for 2022-23 is very realistic," Nageswaran told reporters.

Deve Gowda in hospital, 'will be back home soon'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

FORMER prime minister and JDS patriarch HD Deve Gowda (89) was admitted to Manipal Hospital on Old Airport Road on Tuesday morning. The hospital confirmed his admission but refused to disclose any details on his health condition.

Sources close to his family, however, said the former prime minister has been suffering from pain in his knees which has caused a swelling in his leg.

Meanwhile, the official Twitter handle of Deve Gowda allayed the fears of his followers. "I have come to the hospital for a routine check-up. There is no need for any panic or anxiety. I will be back home in a couple of days", it said.

Sources said the JDS supremo may be discharged by Thursday.

No separate tax for mobile chargers: HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has ruled that chargers cannot be differently taxed by treating them as separate components from mobile phone sets.

A division bench comprising Justice PS Dinesh Kumar and Justice TG Shivashankare Gowda passed the order stating that a mobile charger shall be classifiable as a 'mobile phone' as per the notification issued under the Karnataka Value Added Tax (KVAT) Act. The order was passed while dismissing a batch revision petition filed by the Commercial Tax Department of Karnataka against the order of the Karnataka Appellate Tribunal which also took a similar stand.

It has come as a big relief to customers as well as several telecom equipment companies including Airtel, Samsung, Sony and others. The earlier order passed by the Tribunal in their favour on March 10, 2021, was challenged by the Commercial Tax Department. P7

In love with B'luru's past, BMTC driver finds 10th century inscription

There are records that state that Halasuru was a prominent place in the 16th century. The local history says that Halasuru was one of the Shaiva centres built by the Cholas

AKNISREE KARTHIK @Bengaluru

DRIVEN by his passion for archaeology and his zeal to explore the history of Bengaluru, a Bangalore Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC) bus driver has thrown light on a self-sacrifice stone inscription in Joguplaya, Halasuru, that is believed to belong to the 10th century.

K Dhanapal, a driver and tour guide on BMTC's Bengaluru Darshini, who has the credit of unearthing stone inscriptions across Bengaluru, said that the recent inscription contains writing in Tamil.

"There are records that state that Halasuru was a prominent place in the 16th century. The local history says that Halasuru was one of the Shaiva centres built by the Cholas. The Someshwara Temple was built by the Cholas and later Kempegowda expanded and renovated it during his reign. Except for the ancient temple, there are no records of any hero stone (veeragallu) and ancient inscriptions in the area," said Dhanapal.

Dhanapal, who is also a member of the Karnataka History Academy, claims to have found the stone inscription after he saw a picture of it on social media. He headed to the area for a field visit along with his friends Swaminathan, Natarajan, and a resident of Halasuru, Sathish Kumar, and estimated the inscription to belong to the 10th century.

"The stone sculpture depicts a man committing self-sacrifice either for God or for the prosperity of the king. The man in the sculpture looks like a warrior or a saint who is sitting in a meditative posture. A sword that is expected to chop off his head is carved next to the warrior. After the self-sacrifice, it is depicted to be heading to heaven and there are angels taking him there," explained Dhanapal.

There is an 8-line Tamil script engraved on the sculpture and Tamil epigraphists are carrying out detailed research on it, he added.

Nandi ropeway work to start before poll bell

Foundation stone could be laid soon to beat model code of conduct

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

CONSTRUCTION of the 2.93km passenger ropeway, proposed at Nandi Hills in Chikkaballapur district, is likely to start in a couple of weeks, with Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai kickstarting the project ahead of the Election Commission (EC) notification on assembly elections.

Since the model code of conduct comes into effect with the EC notification, Minister for Tourism, Environment and Ecology Anand Singh has sought dates for Bommai to lay the foundation stone as soon as possible. "Within a fortnight, work will take off on the ropeway project, which will cost Rs 98 crore under public-private partnership (PPP) model, and a private firm has taken responsibility," Singh told reporters here on Tuesday, besides explaining the achievements of the department during his 18-month tenure as minister.

The demand for the passenger ropeway is almost four decades old, and is likely to place the tourist spot on the global tourism map. The project did not take off despite getting cabinet nod almost a year ago.

JLR made Rs 15 cr profit

Anand Singh informed that Jungle Lodges and Resorts Corporation (JLR) recovered after the Covid-19 pandemic and made a profit of Rs 15 crore in the current year, due to measures taken by the tourism department.

"The department took measures to ensure the safety of tourists. As a result, JLR's turnover was Rs 98.20 crore in 2022-23, with a profit of Rs 15 crore," he said. The organisation intends to build new JLR properties in four districts -- a surfing school, resort, water sports and restaurant at Sasihithlu beach in Dakshina Kannada, at an estimated cost of Rs 7.50 crore; a resort with water sports and trekking at Chincholi Wildlife Sanctuary in Kalaburagi district, at a cost of Rs 2.08 crore; and a biological park in Sakrebailu in Shivamogga, at Rs 17.13 crore.

He said that cottages, water sports, a restaurant, trekking, mountain and rock climbing faciliteis will be constructed on a 10-acre plot of land near Manchanabele reservoir in Magadi taluk of Ramanagara district. Boarding facilities will be set up at a cost of Rs 20 crore on Anjanadri hill in Koppal district.

Pravasi Soudha

Since the tourism department, KSTDC and JLR pay Rs 6 crore in rent every year, the department has purchased land from the Karnataka Handloom Development Corporation for Rs 12.36 crore in Halasuru, to construct 'Pravasi Soudha'. The building will house the offices of the Directorate of Tourism, Karnataka State Tourism Development Corporation and JLR. Stalls will be constructed for the display and sale of products made by handloom weavers, products of Mysore Silk Industries Corporation and Karnataka State Handicrafts Development Corporation for tourists.

A two-year agreement has been entered into with 'Fly Blade' to provide helicopter services to guests visiting JLR. Managing Director of JLR Manoj Kumar said that permanent and contract employees and their family members have medical insurance cover of Rs 8 lakh and accident insurance of Rs 5 lakh. Anand Singh said steps have been taken to regularise the services of employees who have been with JLR for 15-20 years.

Govt to regularise jobs, Pourakarmikas end stir

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

WITH the Assembly elections round the corner, the state government has conceded to the demand of BBMP pourakarmikas, by deciding to regularise their jobs.

Members of the Karnataka Pourakarmika Sangha and BBMP Pourakarmikara Sangha, affiliated to the All India Central Council of Trade Unions (AICCTU), were on protest following the recruitment order issued by the BBMP to 3,673 pourakarmikas against the finance department's approval for the appointment of 16,000 civic workers.

This apart, the body had alleged that many pourakarmikas were appointed to the BBMP illegally by presenting fake documents and giving bribes. It wanted the recruitment order to be scrapped.

The government conceded to the demands of the BBMP Pourakarmikara Sangha to regularise the jobs of all pourakarmikas. The government has assured that steps will be taken for permanency and notification will be issued within one or two weeks.

On Tuesday, Jayaram Raipura, BBMP Special Commissioner, Finance, addressed the protesting pourakarmikas and said that the file in regard to making all the pourakamrikas permanent is before the chief minister, and assured that the same would be approved within two days and the procedure including the issuance of notification would be done within a period of two weeks. He also assured that the jobs of all 16,000 pourakarmikas working under the BBMP would be regularised together, and until then, the present recruitment process with regard to 3,673 workers would be kept in abeyance. Hence, the strike has been called off, said Nirmala M, the president of the body.

On the basis of this assurance, the protest was withdrawn. "If pourakarmikas are not made permanent, we will have no option but to hit the streets," stated Maitreyi, AICCTU state committee member.

Experiments need not be costly: Kasturirangan

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

FORMER Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) chairman Dr K Kasturirangan called physicist Sir C V Raman a scientific explorer who believed in carrying out science experiments with minimum resources, and not always needing expensive equipment.

The discovery of the 'Raman Effect', which won India's first Nobel Prize in Science was done with only Rs 500 worth of equipment by Raman, the former ISRO chairman said. "Raman was happy to use simple, inexpensive equipment for his experiments. It never stopped him from making discoveries that impact the world even today. Sophisticated scanners used to detect drugs and explosives are based on the Raman effect," he said.

Dr Kasturirangan was speaking at the Open Day inaugural ceremony hosted in lieu of National Science Day celebrated annually to commemorate Sir C V Raman's discovery at Raman Research Institute (RRI) on Tuesday.

Raman was 16-years-old when he published his first paper in the Philosophical Magazine. His interest in Physics was such that he switched from working in the financial services to the IISc, and later set up a research institute as well, he said.

Since Dr Kasturirangan also headed the drafting committee for the New Education Policy (NEP), he explained the need for a new policy to be put in place. Especially for undergraduate students, the fourth academic year under NEP will provide the next generation students an opportunity to explore research in the choice of their subject and create innovative technologies. All the levels of education (primary, secondary and higher) will become flexible providing students the authority to choose the subjects of interest and specialise in them. A special Science Day-themed postal cover with Sir C V Raman's photo stamp was also released jointly with S. Rajendra Kumar, Chief Postmaster General, Karnataka.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

01ST March : After mentioning Mars, yesterday, I've been looking at the number of science fiction stories about Martians. Our modern aliens so often come from distant galaxies or other dimensions, but until twenty years ago, Mars was their favoured location. Often, as in H.G. Wells' classic story, 'The War of the Worlds', they were out to conquer Earth. Luckily, we now know they don't exist!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Today's planetary picture is best viewed as neither good nor bad, but neutral, bringing a turning point in your creative and romantic affairs. Which way you move is entirely up to you, so think ahead. But if you're going to make it at work you must have your colleagues' full support.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
I have spoken before about the potential for substantial improvements in your home, personal and family affairs. Today's stars bring a major shift forward, and you may soon be set free from a pressing responsibility. And that just has to be welcome news!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Keep an eye out for mistaken instructions and lost directions. Interviews and discussions could be muddled, short journeys could lead to unexpected destinations. Tread carefully around all legal delicacies and make sure that you explain yourself properly. Then everything will work out just fine.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Today's the day to sow fertile seeds for future prosperity. If you don't find any loose change in the street, at least you can gear your investments up for a future breakthrough. Don't put all your eggs in the same basket, though, or you risk losing everything.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
It's been a few years since we saw planetary alignments like the ones that are building up now. You may be buffeted by celestial storms, but that's all the more reason you need to wrap up well, metaphorically speaking, before you go out. The more protected you are, the better.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Only the highest standards will do, and I must ask you to be a saint. The stars are threatening to undermine your confidence, but if you are sincere, loving, dutiful and self-sacrificing, you will dodge all negative planetary patterns, attract respect and enhance your reputation.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You have your share of responsibility but, if you wish, you may make personal pleasure and creative satisfaction your principle priority. It's all a matter of seeing that partners take responsibility for themselves, and don't expect you to wait on them hand and foot.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You may switch into top gear at work and keep your eye on the road ahead. Watch out for cul-de-sacs and blind alleys, otherwise you'll waste a great deal of time and squander your energy. Keep out of the way if partners are in a china-smashing mood.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Overseas and long-distance influences are growing stronger. This is obviously significant if you're travelling, for you may meet much more than you've bargained for. And if you're at home, there must still be some way to bring an adventurous angle into your life.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Material security does seem to be a crucial issue, although perhaps not as much as it will be after another two months have passed. It all boils down to the need to increase your cash-flow, but also to be certain that you make the best possible use of your assets.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
It's a day of extremes and it's difficult to see whether you will achieve a major romantic break-through or run head long into an emotional conflict. You must pick and choose your companions with great care, and don't let anyone else make up your mind for you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Venus, planet of love, is now your ally. You may therefore move into a commanding position in all emotional and romantic affairs. Keep a weather eye open for hysterical colleagues at work, by the way, and use the same soothing charms on them as you would with friends.

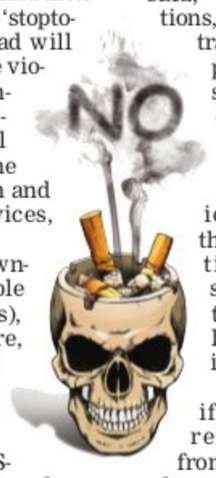
'STOPTOBACCO' APP LAUNCHED TO CURB SMOKING IN PUBLIC

Location of violation will automatically get fed and sent to district tobacco control cell

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CITIZENS who are victims of passive smoking in public places need not be mute spectators anymore to the violation of their right to health. They can now click a picture of people smoking in the public and then upload the same on the 'stoptobacco' app and a squad will take action against the violator. The app was unveiled by the State Tobacco Control Cell (STCC), a wing of the Department of Health and Family Welfare Services, here on Tuesday.



Citizens have to download the app (available only for Android users), from Google Play store, click picture of the public place where they find the violation and upload it on the app. The app is GPS-enabled and the location of the violation will automatically get fed and it will go to the respective district tobacco control cell. They are bound to reach the location and take action on the complaint and close it in six working days.

Citizens can also lodge complaints about the sale of tobacco to minors, advertisement of tobacco products, sale of tobacco within 100 yards of educational institutions, and loose sale of cigarettes without the mandatory health warning.

State Health Commissioner Randeep said youth experiment with tobacco as they are easily available.

Asked how the squad will identify individual violators smoking in the public, Randeep said, "Unlike traffic violations, where the violator is tracked using a number plate, we cannot do the same here. For now, our focus is to slap fines on the shopkeepers, tea shops, coffee shops, bakeries and others where there is a major violation. We expect the shopkeeper to warn the violators and not let the people smoke in public."

He added that if they are getting repeated complaints from the same shop, they have all the legal provisions to shut it.

Through the efforts of the STCC, more than 20 villages in Karnataka have become tobacco-free, where there are no sales or consumption of tobacco. The health department also launched a social media campaign- 'Step Towards Tobacco-Free Generation' where they aim to prevent the sale of tobacco to all those who are born in and after the year 2007.

CM Bommai holds late-night meeting, fails to break deadlock

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE state may see a complete halt of all government services, except essentials under the health department, across all state government departments on Wednesday as employees are going on a strike demanding the implementation of the 7th Pay Commission report.

Coming ahead of the Assembly polls, the agitation has put the ruling BJP in a tight spot. The demand of the Karnataka Government Employees' Association on report implementation has been around for some months now. What has irked the employees is Bommai's failure to mention it in his budget.

Association president CS Shadakshari, who attended a late-night meeting with Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai to resolve the issue, said, "This is just a first round of meeting. We have not decided anything now. The CM is positive and told us that the government needs time. But it does not mean there is conclusion." He, however, said the strike will go on.

After the meeting, Bommai said he has also asked the commission to give its report at the earliest. "Association members have expressed their views. We have made our stand clear. The government will discuss the matter with the finance department," the CM said.

Shadakshari said the state has 87 departments and of the 7.7 lakh sanctioned posts, 2.5 lakh are vacant. "We are putting in more work because the posts have not been filled. Despite such issues, Karnataka is among the top states in development," he said. Over 10 lakh employees, including contract workers, are working in the state government. He said that employees are being paid far lesser than their counterparts in the central government and other states.

Though Bommai tried to convince the employees, saying the funds have been allocated and the commission report would be implemented in 2023-24, Shadakshari said the staff of all departments, except essential services, would take part in the protest.

Services across all ULBs, including BBMP, GPs, government schools and colleges, offices at Vidhana Soudha, Vikas soudha and MS Building, health department, revenue department, Raitha Samparka Kendras of the agriculture department and others are likely to be affected.

SERVICES LIKELY TO BE HIT

- BBMP, BWSSB, BDA offices, citizens seeking khata and other documents may not get their work done
- Raitha Samparka Kendras where farmers are given fertilisers, seeds and other essentials will be shut
- Govt schools, colleges will not be working as teachers will take part in strike
- Bus services are likely to be affected as KSRTC and other road transport employees will be part of the agitation.

Bhaskar Rao to quit AAP, join BJP today

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FORMER Bengaluru police commissioner Bhaskar Rao, who joined Aam Aadmi Party after taking a voluntary retirement from the police department in April last year, will formally resign from AAP and join BJP at 9.30 am on Wednesday.

Asked about his decision, Rao told TNIE, "Aam Aadmi Party is stagnant." Indicating that he was not happy with some leaders in AAP, Rao said, "The party is in the clutches of a few persons over a long period."

Sources said that Rao wanted to be named party president, but was appointed only as head of the AAP Manifesto Committee after the recent reshuffle within the party by national convenor and Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal. His resignation is an indication of simmering differences within AAP, they added.

Though Rao wanted to contest the Assembly election from a constituency in Bengaluru when he joined AAP, he has not placed any such demand before going to the BJP fold, the sources said.

Also, it was a big event when Rao joined AAP in the presence of Kejriwal in Delhi, but his entry into BJP will be a tepid affair in comparison. His resignation comes just days ahead of Kejriwal's visit to Karnataka. Interestingly, Rao was part of the party team that spent days discussing Kejriwal's visit and the logistics required.

Rao on Tuesday evening said he had not formally resigned from AAP and he would do so after joining BJP.

He said the office of the deputy commissioner has sanctioned about eight acres of land in survey no. 112 of Navile village situated on the outskirts of the city. He said after a high-level committee comprising officers and experts gave their consent to the land, the deputy commissioner issued an order to sanction the land. Rohini files defamation suit against Roopa

@ Bengaluru

IAS officer Rohini Sindhuri filed a defamation suit against IPS officer Roopa D Moudgil in a city court on Monday.

The IAS officer appeared before the 24th Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate (ACMM) court in person along with her husband Sudhir Reddy and filed the defamation suit, praying for the arrest of the IGP-ranked officer. Sindhuri has claimed damages to the tune of Rs 1 crore in her petition.

She stated that despite the court having restrained Roopa from making allegations against her, Roopa continued to defame her by posting allegations against her on social media repeatedly. Further, she informed the court that though the government had conducted an inquiry into the Chamarajanagar hospital oxygen tragedy, Roopa was intentionally raising the issue again and again on social media. Besides, the IAS officer also stated that Roopa had indulged in bringing disrepute to her by making several allegations that are personal in nature. The court directed to register a defamation case and adjourned the hearing till March 3.

Sindhuri had issued a legal notice to Roopa demanding an unconditional apology on public platforms, removing all posts related to her from her social media profiles and seeking damages of Rs 1 crore on February 22.

Rahul a Congress poll agent?: CM

ENS @ Hubballi

REACTING to allegations made by Congress leader Siddaramaiah against Union Home Minister Amit Shah and BJP national president JP Nadda that they have become "poll agents" of the party, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Tuesday sought to know whether former AICC president Rahul Gandhi is working as a "Congress poll agent".

Speaking to reporters here, Bommai said that such statements by Congress leaders shows the frustration of the party. "They are making such statements because they are rattled seeing the turnout during the recent visit of Prime Minister Narendra Modi," the CM said. "Is it fair for a former CM to speak in such a manner? I am leaving it to the people to judge," he added.

Bommai said that the BJP's Vijaya Sankalpa Yatra will be held from March 1 to 24 and will culminate in Davanagere after covering all 224 Assembly constituencies.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Amit Shah, and party's state in-charge Dharmendra Pradhan will participate. He also said that the BJP Parliamentary Board will decide on the list of candidates for the upcoming Assembly polls.

On JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy's recent statement that he will retire from electoral politics after the upcoming polls, Bommai said, "I do not know about the context... but this is not the age to retire as he still has several years to serve people. These things happen during elections but it has to be noted that the maturity of voters increases from one election to the next."

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

The respective district incharge ministers and Union ministers will take part in the conventions and the beneficiaries will be given a platform to voice their grievances following which the deputy commissioners concerned will be directed to resolve them.

BJP WILL SIDELINE BSY SOON AFTER POLLS, SAYS MB PATIL

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

KPCC Campaign Committee chairman MB Patil here on Tuesday predicted that the BJP high command will further sideline former chief minister BS Yediyurappa after the Karnataka Assembly elections and he would face a similar fate as that of former deputy prime minister LK Advani.

"After BJP received some reports that asking Yediyurappa to step down as CM two-and-a-half years ago would impact BJP's poll prospects, party leaders are giving importance to him. But after fifty days and when the polls get over, he will be sidelined," Patil said.

"After ousting Yediyurappa, BJP had plans to make another leader a CM, but it was forced to pick Basavaraj Bommai following pressure from religious heads and because of fears that there would be a backlash from the numerically and politically strong Veerashaiva-Lingayat community. Since BJP has lost leadership by sidelining Yediyurappa, it is now banking on Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Amit Shah to win the elections. But they too cannot do any magic in the state," he said. He termed a gimmick Modi's allegation during a public rally in Belagavi on Monday that Congress ill-treated its leaders like Nijalingappa and Veerendra Patil. "Even after Veerendra Patil lost the Chikkamagaluru polls, he was made a Union minister by Congress. He was removed from the chief minister's post as he was not performing. Why did BJP remove Yediyurappa from the chief minister's post in July 2021," he ridiculed.

Can't forget love, affection of Modi, says Yediyurappa

"I can't forget the love and affection shown by PM Modi. BJP has given me everything and I owe it all to the party. I travel the length and breadth of the state to bring the party back to power, which would be my gift to the Prime Minister," said former chief minister BS Yediyurappa in Shivamogga on Tuesday.

"Till my last breath, I will work for the development of the state and district in particular," he said.

Molasses scam: Priyank Kharge says BJP govt helped firm export it

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

LAUNCHING a broadside against the BJP, Congress leader Priyank Kharge on Tuesday alleged that the Bommai government had managed to pull off a 'molasses scam'.

He said that a private company, KN Resources, based in Mumbai, had requested permission to export 2 lakh tonnes of molasses in September 2022. Despite not having the necessary documentation, the government took special interest and gave the M2 license in just two months.

The State Distillery Owners' Association protested against this move, claiming there are not enough molasses for them, let alone for export. "In the state budget, the BJP government set a target of Rs 39,000 crore tax from excise, but is artificially creating a molasses shortage. Distillers protested that molasses should not be exported, as it would affect the government's income, but were ignored. This company has not paid GST for 36 months, but got permission to export molasses."

While seeking permission, no document was furnished for arrangement of exports, and the destination was not disclosed either, he alleged.

"One tonne of molasses costs Rs 10,000, so 2lakh tonnes will fetch about Rs 200 crore. KN Resources Pvt Ltd stated it will procure 2lakh tonnes from Karnataka, and export it through Goa, though Karnataka has its own ports. Our government could have collected Rs 60 crore through tax. Later, crores could have been generated from the sale of liquor."

"Earlier, two BJP MPs and the Union Finance Minister had pushed for this deal, and Chief Minister Basvaraj Bommai had spoken to the excise minister and commissioner to ensure the deal went through without hassles. This allegation is not ours, it was revealed in a conversation between Shivraj, the contractor who transported the molasses, and Suresh, a representative of KN Resources Pvt Ltd," Kharge said.

Responding to Congress allegations, Bommai asked them to lodge a complaint with the Lokayukta. "If Congress leaders provide him with details, it will be investigated. Or let them complain to the Lokayukta."

Tanveer says no to polls, supporters attempt suicide

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru

TENSION prevailed for a while as Congress workers tried to immolate themselves and attempted to jump from a building against Congress MLA Tanveer Sait's decision to retire from active politics.

Sait, who has won five successive terms as MLA from the NR constituency, wrote to AICC general secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala, KPCC president DK Shivakumar and CLP leader Siddaramaiah in December, expressing his inability to contest the forthcoming election because of his health issues. The MLA, who suffered a murderous knife attack in 2019, stated in his letter that he has not fully recovered from that incident and it would be difficult for him to do justice to the people of his constituency.

Sait clarified that he will remain a loyal Congressman. But Congress leaders prevailed upon him to drop his retirement plans for now and to contest the polls.

Though there were rumours after the attack that his daughter or son would enter politics, he had cleared the air saying no one from his family is interested in politics.

As the news of his letter spread, hundreds of his supporters stormed his house, urging him to reconsider his decision. One of his supporters poured kerosene and tried to immolate himself, while a few others climbed a three-storey building and threatened to commit suicide. When Sait came out of his house to attend a public function, his followers mobbed him. Some fell at his feet, while others lay in front of his car, not allowing him to move. "I will discuss it with party leaders, my supporters, and others before taking a final decision," Sait said.

Expose 'graft' in KCR family: Shah to TS party netas

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hyderabad

AFTER CBI arrested former Delhi Deputy Chief Minister Manish Sisodia, tightening the noose around BRS MLC K Kavitha in connection with their alleged role in the Delhi liquor policy case, BJP central leadership has directed its Telangana leaders to go all out in exposing the acts of corruption by CM K Chandrasekhar Rao's family members.

Union Home Minister Amit Shah, along with BJP national president JP Nadda, held a meeting with the core committee and national executive members of BJP's state unit at Nadda's residence on Tuesday.

According to leaders who attended the meeting, Shah asked them to be prepared to launch agitations to create awareness among people about the alleged corrupt methods of leaders at the helm of affairs in the BRS, leaving the central investigation agencies to do their job.

BJP state unit president Bandi Sanjay questioned why the CM wasn't responding to the allegations against his daughter, Kavitha but was quick to condemn the arrest of Sisodia. He stressed that there was no discussion about the liquor policy case. In the two-hour-long meeting, Shah directed party leaders to focus on taking the party and its symbol to every door.

He urged leaders to increase enrolments into BJP, and told them if there were any objections from within the party in any constituency against, they should be brought to the notice of Nadda.

Sanjay, Eatala side by side

An interesting sight witnessed by the media after the meeting was Sanjay and Eatala standing side by side and addressing the media. Sanjay said that Congress and BRS were spreading false propaganda that there were differences between the leaders of the party.

Edible oil import cost slumps, but dependence continues

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

EVEN after a year of the Ukraine-Russia war, the dependence on Ukraine for oil continues, especially sunflower oil.

According to the oil and oil seeds association, the quality and quantity of oil being imported have not changed. However, the rate of edible oil has reduced. Earlier, edible oil was being imported at Rs 1,600 per 10kg, which has now reduced to Rs 1,135 per 10kg, said the members.

Experts and association members said that although many local companies started manufacturing and sale of edible and cold pressed oil, they comprise only one per cent of the market share. Therefore, the dependence on import of palm and sunflower oil continues.

Most parts of state are dependent on Malaysia and Indonesia for palm oil, and Chicago and Ukraine for sunflower oil.

Recently, Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, during the G20 meeting in Bengaluru, had stated that India was keeping a close watch on the war situation as the dependence for oil import continues. DD Prahalad, joint secretary, Bengaluru Oil and Oil Seeds Association, said that no other market was explored as an alternative during the war, and this is the key reason for the dependence. The price reduction shows there has been good supply, but it is affected by cost of transportation and port location. Although the country grows groundnuts, the net market share in oil production is below 5%, Prahalad added.

'No means to set value of individual goods'

ON September 6, 2008, the Commissioner of Commercial Taxes, under Section 59(4) of the Act, issued a clarification that mobile chargers attract tax at 12.5%. This was challenged by the telecom companies before the Tribunal.

The Tribunal held that the 'mobile phone chargers' sold along with the phones in composite packs attract tax at the same rate as applicable to 'mobile phone' only and it cannot be taxed at a higher rate as unscheduled goods under Section 4(1) (b) (iii) of the Act.

Upholding the stand of the Tribunal, the High Court observed that there can be no doubt that the main intention of a purchaser/seller while buying/selling a 'mobile set' is to buy/sell the mobile phone and not the charger alone. Supply of charger, headset, and ejection pin is incidental to the sale. Therefore, the Dominant Intention Test would apply to the present case and hence, the charger cannot be differently taxed, the court added.

"A perusal of Section 4 (charging section) of the Act and Rule 3 (computation provision) of KVAT Rules would clearly indicate there is no prescribed mechanism for determining the value of individual goods in a composite transaction," the court said. "In its absence, this court is of the considered view that the charger sold along with the mobile phone in one set, is accordingly taxable at 5 per cent."

DRI BUSTS AFRICAN SYNDICATE HIRING INDIANS TO SMUGGLE COCAINE

BALA CHAUHAN @ bengaluru

THE Directorate of Revenue Intelligence (DRI), Bengaluru, has unearthed a Delhi-based African syndicate that hires vulnerable people, especially from the North East (NE), to smuggle contraband narcotic and psychotropic substances into India, in return for petty pecuniary gains.

On credible inputs, on February 20, the DRI, Bengaluru, intercepted a woman from the NE at Kempegowda International Airport (KIA), and seized from her 2.5kg of cocaine worth Rs 30 crore in the international grey market. According to informed sources, on further investigation, the DRI, Bengaluru, shared inputs with their counterparts in Chennai and Mumbai.

"Based on the inputs received, on February 26, DRI, Chennai, intercepted a man from NE at the international airport and seized 2.5kg of cocaine from his checked-in baggage. On February 27, DRI, Mumbai intercepted a Delhi-based carrier at Chhatrapati Shivaji International Airport and seized 2.5kg of cocaine," said sources.

Explaining the modus operandi in the three cases, sources said they were allegedly hired by a Delhi-based African syndicate, which lures gullible people, especially from the NE, to act as carriers of contraband drugs. "This is the first instance where DRI, Bengaluru, has busted Indian carriers hired by Africans to smuggle in cocaine. Till recently, it was Africans who were caught carrying the contraband drug to India. This is the first time we have caught Indians going to Africa to smuggle in the drug," said sources.

Cocaine seized by DRI, Bengaluru

The three mules, who were arrested from Bengaluru, Chennai and Mumbai under the Narcotic Drugs & Psychotropic Substances (NDPS) Act, 1985, had arrived from Addis Ababa by Ethiopian Airlines. "The woman arrested in Bengaluru was told that after she cleared Customs, she would be identified by someone carrying her photograph outside the terminal. She was offered return tickets and Rs 1 lakh in USD for the 'job', and paid a token advance of Rs 20,000. The balance would have been paid on delivery of the consignment. All three carriers were tasked to carry cocaine to Delhi and hand it to their handlers there," said sources.

"Three different people from India were hired by the same syndicate through 'job offers', to bring in the contraband drug from Africa via different airports in India, to hoodwink law enforcers," they added.

What is of interest is the shift in the modus operandi of drug cartels to smuggle contraband drugs into India. From huge containerised consignments of heroin from Afghanistan, to courier shipments and individual local carriers, the syndicates are trying every method to transport the banned narcotic and psychotropic substances.

Cocaine is a powerfully addictive stimulant drug made from the leaves of the coca plant native to South America, which remains its largest producer. Cocaine increases levels of the natural chemical messenger dopamine in brain circuits related to the control of movement and reward. Banned under the NDPS Act, it is priced between Rs 11 crore and Rs 12 crore in the undercover market.

In 2022, the annual United Nations Office on Drugs & Crime (UNODC) report had stated that potential production of cocaine in Colombia and the area sown with coca, the drug's base ingredient, had risen the previous year to their highest levels in two decades of monitoring. "The cocaine cartels are trying new routes to push the drug to Addis Ababa, which is well linked to India by Ethiopian Airlines," added sources.

The woman arrested in Bengaluru was told that after she cleared Customs, she would be identified by someone carrying her photograph outside the terminal. She was offered return tickets and Rs 1 lakh in USD for the 'job', and paid a token advance of Rs 20,000. The balance would have been paid on delivery of the consignment.

Experts: Use lead care kits to detect metal in blood

NAMRATA SINDWANI @ Bengaluru

HEALTH professionals at the National Institute of Mental Health and Neurosciences (Nimhans) have recommended the use of lead care kits for employees working in the industrial sector which they say will help in detection of dissolution of metal in their bloodstream.

Ahana Bhattacharya, PhD scholar from Clinical Psychopharmacology and Neurotoxicology Department, said the employees working in industries are frequently exposed to heavy metals like lead which gets dissolved in their blood. If unchecked, it can affect a person's brain and can aggravate diseases like Alzhiemer's, Parkinson's disease and other disorders.

High metal content in blood can also cause cognitive impairment in a person and hence must be diagnosed early, Bhattacharya said. She said stricter laws must be put in place in industries to carry out regular tests to study the metal concentration in an industry worker's blood. Even the waste disposal in metal industries is not regularised which is an added cause of increased metal threshold, she added, suggesting a four-bin disposal set up to segregate metal waste making its disposal easy.

A lab technician at Nimhans explained that in case metal found in blood is more than 5 micrograms, it is hazardous. Some experts at the Nimhans National Science Day Expo also showcased several other technologies healthcare which help in studying behavioural patterns of patients and curate appropriate data from it. They explained the world has become data driven.

Stray dog attacks 3 kids, injure 2 in AP

K KALYAN KRISHNA KUMAR @ Vijayawada

THREE school children were attacked by a stray dog in Bhavanipuram of Vijayawada city on Monday evening. Two of them sustained serious injuries.

The dog attacked eight-year-old Nazir, Chaitanya Kumar and Jessica, and bit them on their neck, hands and legs. The children were shifted to the hospital and were administered Anti-Rabies Vaccine (ARV). The mother of the girl, who made an attempt to protect the children, fell down. The dog bit the girl on her neck, and dragged her for some distance. Another person tried to save the kids by throwing an iron rod, but it did not help. Then locals rushed out, and chased the dog away.

"The dog came from behind and attacked. My mother fell down to stop the dog from biting us," the girl said. The incident comes after a five-year-old boy was mauled to death by a pack of stray dogs in the neighbouring Telangana. Sk Bashir, father of injured Nazeer, said, "I have been calling the VMC staff over the past three days regarding the stray dogs, but no action was taken."

ONUS ON KEJRIWAL TO PROVE HIS PARTY IS STILL INCORRUPTIBLE

The Aam Aadmi Party, born out of an anti-corruption movement led by Anna Hazare, has landed in deep trouble over allegations of corruption. Two top ministers considered Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal's closest lieutenants—Manish Sisodia and Satyendar Jain—are now under arrest, and investigations are on in several cases involving members of AAP governments in Delhi and Punjab. With Kejriwal accepting the resignations tendered by Sisodia and Jain, expect political rhetoric to skyrocket to stratospheric levels.

The AAP naturally claims foul play and targeted victimisation by the ruling BJP. The latter, which justifiably sees the AAP as a party that can predate upon its prey base, will point to the irony: all these years, the AAP's unique selling point was its leaders' professed incorruptibility, offered as a stark contrast to the rest of the field.

The Delhi liquor scam will dent the credibility of the AAP's claim to be a party with a difference. The burden of giving proof of their incorruptibility is now on Kejriwal. His stakes are high: after Delhi, the voters of Punjab had reposed faith in his party. And the splash they made in Gujarat—gaining national party status—had put wind in the AAP's sail ahead of 2024. The Congress feels the electoral competition from Kejriwal even more than the BJP at present—everywhere, the latter grows at its cost. At the same time, it shares a fate with the AAP: the ED and the CBI have been snapping at the heels of leaders of other parties as well with unnerving regularity. Critics wonder why only opposition leaders come under the radar of central investigative agencies. Unlike other opposition parties, the Congress was a divided house in criticising Sisodia's arrest. Its Delhi unit approved of it while central leaders like Jairam Ramesh found it distressing.

This is an issue that can fuse the entire opposition—adding to the optics of a consolidated front against the BJP in 2024—but the two parties are stuck in a rivalrous mode. The allegations against Sisodia—that the Delhi government's excise policy was tailor-made to bring unfair profits to certain liquor manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers and to facilitate cartelisation of the liquor trade in the city—will need to be proved in court. But being second only to Kejriwal in party and government, his arrest has already taken the game to the next level.

RELIEF FOR BUYERS, BUT RERA NEEDS MORE TEETH

Recently, various state real estate regulatory authorities have seen some definitive action in defence of the hapless home buyer. In Maharashtra, the MahaRERA has issued show-cause notices to as many as 313 big promoters after an external auditor found that the expenditure claimed by these builders did not match the progress on the ground. The MahaRERA will investigate whether funds raised for the projects have been diverted elsewhere. Similarly, the Haryana RERA has issued an order freezing the bank accounts of three mass housing projects of Ocean Seven Buildtech (OSB). Residential real estate across the country continues to be a minefield where even branded developers cheat thousands of consumers of their hard-earned money. It is, therefore, commendable that regulators are taking proactive action. This will also hopefully serve as a deterrent to wannabe crooks.

To end the law of the jungle, the Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Act, 2016 was enforced from May 1, 2017. Builders were required to register their projects with a timeline of delivery. Layers of penalties were built in case builders defaulted on timely delivery or product quality. Tribunals set up by the Authority also provide a forum for resolving complaints.

The problem, however, has been one of uneven implementation. Since housing is a state subject, each state government had to notify its rules under the central act and set up a provincial regulatory authority. While Maharashtra RERA has done well, registered nearly 40,000 projects, and disposed of about 70% of the nearly 18,000 complaints received, others have not been so proactive.

With five years' hindsight, the RERA regulators have played a positive role. But it is still a work in progress. Registration and display of project details on the RERA website have brought much-needed transparency. Though still rudimentary, home buyers now have a forum to resolve disputes. However, there is a long way to go. One, the structure and manning levels of the various state RERA authorities need to be beefed up to monitor projects better. These bodies are woefully understaffed and cannot investigate many complaints. Second, while RERA tribunals have the power to impose fines and order compensation in the case of failed projects, they need more legal teeth to implement their own orders. Otherwise, even after years of litigation, builders will defy RERA orders brazenly.

QUICK TAKE

THE RIGHT TO COUNSEL

Allahabad HC shifts a sedition case against some Kashmiri students from Saharanpur after lawyers in Agra, where the case was filed, refused to represent them. The students were charged with promoting enmity, cyber terrorism and sedition because they cheered Pakistan after it won a cricket match. The case has some glitches, but that's not the point. Can lawyers en masse decide not to fight cases because they deem the accused anti-national? The Centre and the SC have a question to answer—except for enemy aliens or those under preventive detention, all accused have the right to counsel under the Constitution.

The two bickering officers are part of a nationwide phenomenon of being trapped in the web of political expectations, opportunism and factionalism

BUREAUCRACY AND ITS POLITICAL CRUTCHES

SUGATA SRINIVASARAJU

Senior journalist and author

SOUMYADIP SINHA

Even amidst a newsy and rather noisy buildup for the assembly polls in Karnataka, something else diverted the attention of the general public in the last fortnight. It was the mudslinging between two mid-career lady officers who belong to the Indian Administrative Service (IAS) and the Indian Police Service (IPS).

This development did not provoke wise commentary or sane intervention by peers or political bosses but generated sensational headlines and gossip. The sniping between the two began (as all sniping does these days) in the gutter lanes of social media. It then became irresistible fodder for local media and everybody else. The reason for this ugly spat, it appears, had little to do with a professional disagreement or a principled position. As the controversy acquired legs and fangs, it became clear that they had some personal animosity. They entangled their husbands too into their fight—one, a businessman in real estate development, and another, an IAS in charge of land records.

In recent years, the two women had been in the news for various wrong and right reasons, making an onlooker wonder if they had never been taught the virtues of working quietly. They both seemed to be the type who had a certain dalliance with the media and came across as ambitious. The fact that the two were in important public roles, and were relatively young, led the media to construct stereotypes of power and glamour around them.

However, this does not and should not remain the story of just two bickering officers. They cannot be seen in isolation. Both are part of a nationwide phenomenon of being trapped in the web of political expectations, opportunism and factionalism. In recent years, there is a new dimension of ideological affinity and stridency that has encroached on a supposedly neutral bureaucracy.

When a politician tries to bend the system to suit his exigencies, the casualties of such acts are often found in the officialdom. In the portals of power, covert or overt suggestions are about which officer is close to which party or politician. Even in the case of these two women at war, such conjectures have actively been made.

For instance, one of the questions that came around on social media with regard to one of the officers was why she was retweeting a ruling party functionary with such regularity. Why did she have a shrill nationalistic tone? With regard to the other officer, her singular pragmatism and political networking was highlighted. It was also suggested that the two perhaps represented influential factions within the ruling establishment. It may suffice to say that there is an elaborate political patronage system at work in the bureaucracy. Running parallel to the political patronage system is a corporate patronage system, but the lines intersect at different points.

Besides these largely understood affinities, we observe yet another affliction in the officialdom. That is a tendency to grandstand, to constantly launch moral crusades, to be self-righteous and to claim transfer martyrdom when moved out of a certain posting. The two women officers in question were prone to this trend as well. Most officers who become 'lions' and 'lionesses' due to their crusades via simplistic media representations often clandestinely aspire for a greater public role than their duty permits. The current BJP president in Tamil Nadu was a 'singham' IPS officer in Karnataka not long ago. Even a book he wrote was pompously titled Stepping Beyond Khaki: Revelations of a Real-Life Singham. He prematurely quit the service after nine years.

One wonders if idealism in the present times desires the crutch of party politics and ideological brazenness and cannot stand independently, stubbornly, and anonymously. It would be unfair to many officers who are greatly evolved to generalise this aspect, but it is very tempting to observe this given the number of bureaucrats who appear the 'committed' type on either social media or in the media. They create a lopsided perception of the officialdom.

The 'committed' idea is not in any way new, none of this is new, and there are only fresh layers and subtleties that have been added. Indira Gandhi, in November 1969, said: "The creation of an administrative cadre committed to national objectives and responsive to our social needs is an urgent necessity." A month later, in December 1969, Jagjivan Ram had said that the "theory of a neutral bureaucracy is hardly relevant to Indian conditions." Their statements may have been uttered in a certain context, but objectives and conditions do not remain the same from regime to regime and party to party.

The many reports like the first and second Administrative Reforms Commission (ARC) report, incidentally, led by two former Karnataka chief ministers—K Hanumanthaiya and M Veerappa Moily, addressed the issue of political neutrality and ethics of governance. They also fine-tuned aspects of public conduct. The P C Hota commission report on civil service reforms dealt with it elaborately too, but they have all happily remained on paper. Then there is, of course, the 'All India Services (Conduct) Rules, 1968' that has been revised from time to time.

In April 1969, months before Indira Gandhi remarked on a committed bureaucracy, K Hanumanthaiya, in his cover letter to her, while submitting the first ARC report, said: "The parliamentary and party system of democracy has, as one of its foundational principles, the neutrality of permanent services between party and party. Civil Services neutrality must, therefore, be meticulously observed at all levels."

The Hota report has an interesting paragraph on mentoring junior officers: "The career advice and helpful guidance, which senior officers used to provide to juniors in civil service, is in danger of fading out. Each young incumbent is then left to grow in an isolated fashion, sometimes picking up undesirable habits in the process." The mentoring by senior officers has perhaps become difficult because politics, ideology, also caste, linguistic and other identities have short-circuited it. It appears there is very little universal about all India services. In the case of the two ladies, the government of the day appeared reluctant to intervene, and when it did, took only a half-hearted measure. We do not know what considerations restrained them. The two ladies are currently without a posting. Some would call it a paid holiday, not a punishment.

THE CONTENTIOUS ISSUE OF AIR INDIA'S RE-PRIVATISATION

STANLEY PINTO

Former international marketing communications professional

Manish Tewari, an MP and former I&B Minister, has been railing untiringly against the sale of Air India to the Tata group. His latest irruption is an op-ed in The New Indian Express newspaper. While he is not a supporter of decades of mismanagement and malfeasance that plagued Air India, he says he believes the public sector nevertheless has a role in the Indian economy—even in running an airline. An absurd contradiction, indeed, in a single sentence.

Tewari says, "Selling assets, brands, and businesses created out of public money to a private entity, even if it is India's most respected corporate entity, is morally repugnant and ethically reprehensible." That statement is pure fakery!

The Air India brand was created NOT out of public money but by the Tata Group in years gone by before it was systematically destroyed by the incompetent and corrupt management of the public sector. The business of businesses, even those operated by government bureaucrats, is to make profits. What comes easier to them is the putrefaction of anything that even remotely resembles profits.

I came up with several examples of this. Let me count the ways.

Fifty years ago, my office in Bombay was immediately next to the Air India building at Nariman Point. It gave me the greatest joy to wander through its corridors and look at the wonderful (and hugely valuable) works of art on its walls. I did this often; as a friend of Bobby Kooka, Sohrab Modi, and Uttara Parikh, all doyens of the company's marketing division, I had free rein to wander through the building. Those paintings, worth crores today, rapidly disappeared after the government took over the airline. One chairman, long retired, allegedly even now has several on the walls of his private home. Gone and almost forgotten.

Under the Tata regime, Air India's management and sales office in London was in the city's stellar Mayfair district. After nationalisation, it was relocated to Ealing, a lower-middle-class residential area populated largely by South Asian families. I recall going there once to update my return ticket to India. It could have been done on the telephone, except that the line had been cut for non-payment of British Telecom's bills. The only indication that it was the Air India office was a life-size cardboard cutout of the Maharaja at the entrance. Similarly, the office in New York was on the city's posh Park Avenue, in the block adjoining what was then the iconic PanAm building, a landmark now known as the MetLife building. That, too, has disappeared into midtown Manhattan, a far cry from Park Avenue.

> The Air India brand was created NOT out of public money but by the Tata Group in years gone by before it was systematically destroyed by the incompetent and corrupt management of the public sector

How and for how much were the Mayfair and Park Avenue offices sold off? Who made those deals? Perhaps Mr Tewari, who says he has been a "principled" opponent of the Air India divestment process, has the answers.

That corruption underlined every stage of the nationalisation of Air India is largely unquestioned by those in the know. In the 1990s, as a management consultant to a major corporation in Muscat, the capital of the Sultanate of Oman, I was on the board of a company that had been the General Sales Agent for Air India for decades. It had made Air India the most profitable airline of all that operated in Oman.

And then one day, without any notice, we received a message that its services would not be required any more, with immediate effect. A message via telephone; nothing as incriminating as a written notice.

After trying to get someone at Air India HQ on the phone all day, a fellow director and I flew to Bombay and proceeded almost directly from the airport to the Nariman Point office. We were made to wait in the reception for a few hours until, just before the close of the day, we were ushered into a meeting room to be confronted by a group of executives.

When we asked why our GSA contract had been terminated, the answer was short: We don't have to provide any reason; we have the right to make changes. And that was the end of the meeting. Short, though not sweet.

Decades of honest and top-flight service were unceremoniously trashed. The company that was given the GSA contract had no experience in the business, but the large amount of money that allegedly changed hands made that acceptable.

As a frequent international traveller for over fifty years, my airline of choice was always Air India. It was unquestionably, along with one or two others, the finest in the world. (I still have an ashtray designed by the world's foremost surrealist artist Salvador Dalí on a commission by JRD; it was sometimes gifted to frequent first class flyers.)

In 1953, Nehru nationalised the airline but kept JRD on as chairman. Then Morarji Desai removed JRD from the chairmanship in 1978. From that point on, it wasn't long before it fell down the rankings.

The last time I flew Air India, just to experience what once had been and now was, the cushion of my seat was missing; I was sitting directly on its metal base. The armrest came off its moorings and fell onto the aisle when I rested on it. The TV screen didn't work. And all this in first class!

So I say to Mr Tewari, I don't know what you consider "morally repugnant" and "ethically reprehensible" about giving this once world-beating entity a second chance.

Give it five years and there will be a long-awaited resurrection. Air India will bloom again.

A thoughtful peep

C P Surendran's Puffin' and pantin' on the Roald Dahl beach (Feb 28) is a thoughtful, gripping, and sparkling peep into the puffing and panting attitude of some editors, writers, and intellectuals. It is a flowy and spicy pabulum for any objective reader or thinker even as literary as well as scriptural works are reproduced with abridgments, emendations, exegeses and critiques from time to time.

Hottest Feb since 1901, country's food reserve to take hit: IMD

May lead to lower wheat yield as Met department says be ready for hotter summer

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

IT IS official: The India Meteorological Department (IMD) says the country has witnessed the hottest February since 1901. The average maximum temperature across the country in February increased to 29.5°C – the highest in 123 years. The forecasting of coming months (March-May) doesn't give a positive outlook to India's food security and people's health.

Its impact is visible on all rabi crops. Farmers have told this newspaper that the high temperature is going to impact the productivity of their rabi crops like wheat, mustard, pulses and horticulture crops such as mangoes. Experts say that if such temperatures keep soaring for another couple of weeks, the country's food stock will get severely impacted.

"My assessment is that the country may witness lesser wheat production by 15-20% if such a higher temperature would continue till the Holi festival," says Prof Panjab Singh, former DG of Indian Council of Agricultural Research (ICAR) to this newspaper. He further said the domino impact of lesser wheat production can be visible in food inflations for a whole year. The abnormally high temperature will severely impact wheat production, followed by mustard and pulses.

"India has already exhausted its food stock under different schemes during Covid-19, and it had been followed with lesser wheat production last year. Suppose this year, wheat production continues to come down, in that case, I am afraid the country's strategic as well as operational food reserve will get dented" he said.

IMD scientists said that this summer is going to be hotter like the last year, especially in northern India. North India will not get any relief from heat and heat waves in the coming months. The region will experience above-normal maximum and minimum temperatures may cause health hazards.

In view of the forecast, the Ministry of Health has issued an advisory to the state governments to take appropriate action on heath-related illnesses.

In the latest seasonal outlook for the hot weather season for March to May, the IMD said that most parts of northeast, east and central India and some parts of northwest India will have above-normal maximum and minimum temperatures while the southern peninsula will experience normal to below normal maximum and minimum temperature.

WHAT IMD SAYS

- More heat waves likely across the country
- North India will not get any relief from heat and heat waves in coming months
- The region will experience above normal max and min temperatures, causing health hazards

Ministry of Health has advised state govts to act on health-related illness

Below-normal rainfall expected over most areas of northwest India, west-central India and some parts of east and northeast India

Mustard & chickpeas crops majorly affected by unexpected rise in heat

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

MUSTARD grower Mukesh Kumar Yadav of Alwar district of Rajasthan is worried over the crop's yield. The soaring temperature of February is making him anxious. His only source of income is the mustard crop, which is now severely damaged.

"The soaring temperatures over the last fortnight have severely impacted our economy," said Yadav. He sowed the mustard crop twice this rabi season. First, his seedlings were destroyed in October due to unseasonal rain. Then in early December, he sowed it again, hoping to get back a better price after the harvest.

He explained that mustard flowers were in the process of getting into shape. It requires another 15 days of normal temperatures to get ready. However, the sudden rise in temperature dried his mustard fruits and put paid to his plan to organise a social function in the coming months. Moreover, the temperature rise also triggered a pest attack on the crop. The mustard seeds' size gets reduced so does the oil content. "My field's productivity will be reduced by 25 per cent," Yadav said.

Alwar and Bharatpur districts are the country's largest producers of the mustard crop. Mustard constitutes India's one-fourth of total edible oil production and consumption. Rajasthan tops in terms of total area (41 per cent) and total output (45 per cent) of mustard.

"Our assessment says the production of mustard gets reduced by 10-12 per cent this season," said Krishna Kumar Agarwal, general secretary Mustard Oil Producers Assn, a Jaipur-based traders' body.

This year acreage of the mustard crop has increased from 91.25 lakh hectares to 98.02 lakh hectares. "The benefit of increasing the acreage is snuffed out by soaring heat. The production is expected around 105 LT," said Manoj Shukla, Agri-commodities market analyst.

Meanwhile, the production of pulses is also severely impacted due to weather-related anomalies. Major producers of chickpeas (gram) – states such as Gujarat, Rajasthan and MP – have been forecast to have lesser production.

"Our chickpeas production was first affected by a long spell of cold wave. And now an unusual high temperature in February has ruined our efforts," said Ram Inania, a farmer based in Harda district in MP.

SC to Maha guv: Ask for House majority

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court constitution bench on Tuesday while hearing pleas related to Maharashtra political crisis remarked that the 10th schedule of the Constitution – which deals with 'disqualification' – is there to prevent constitutional sin of defection and the Governor amid the chaos of MLAs facing sword of disqualification can ask for majority to be proven.

"The problem is antecedent circumstances which necessitated the floor test is an alleged defection. The need of floor test arises because a group of legislators may be disqualified for splitting from the legislative party," the CJI remarked.

On the timing of the floor test, the CJI said, "We have to be cognizant of the situation that a person can perform all duties as a legislator because the speaker has not decided on the disqualification plea... why can't the legislature be not asked to stay off till pleas are decided on. What was the requirement of the floor test and this 7 independent MLAs said they are not with the CM."

Justice P S Narasimha said, "Power of Governor in context of 10th schedule is important here since there are disqualification proceedings pending."

The observations, in the apex court, were made against the backdrop of the submissions put forth by the Uddhav Thackeray-led Shiv Sena faction that there was no way for the state Governor to direct the CM to face trust vote on the floor of the Maharashtra assembly amid the pendency of disqualification pleas.

New govt portal to address your social media grievances

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

NEXT time you have a problem with a social media platform that has not been satisfactorily resolved, you can approach the government's Grievance Appellate Committee (GAC) that has just been launched.

The GAC will have to address your appeal within 30 days. "The digital platform, Grievance Appellate Committee (GAC), is a powerful tool for ensuring accountability of platforms to their users," said Minister of State for IT Rajeev Chandrasekhar.

The GAC was one of the provisions in the recently amended Information Technology (Intermediary Guidelines and Digital Media Ethics Code) Rules, 2021. The framework, which proposes three GACs, was notified on January 28 last. The purpose is to ensure that your Constitutional rights are not contravened by any big-tech platform.

IT Rules 2021 mandates a grievance officer for social media intermediaries like Facebook, Twitter, and WhatsApp so that you can report rule violations. The GAC is a virtual digital platform wherein the entire appeal process, from filing to decision making will be done online.

Each of the GACs have a chairperson, two wholetime members from different government entities, and retired senior executives from the industry, for a term of three years.

Bid to make platforms accountable

"GAC's main aim is to ensure that grievance redressal of platforms are functional and responsive. When that function is unable to resolve a grievance, the appeals will come to GAC," the minister said

India-EU FTA to be game-changer, bolster strategic autonomy: EAM

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

INDIA expects its proposed free trade agreement (FTA) with the European Union (EU) to be a 'game-changer' and is looking forward to a mutually advantageous conclusion to the negotiation process for the pact, External Affairs Minister (EAM) S Jaishankar said on Tuesday.

"We expect the India-EU FTA to be a game-changer for the India-EU relationship. We look forward to a mutually beneficial, mutually advantageous conclusion to the negotiation process within a reasonably short planned timeline," Dr Jaishankar said while addressing the India EU Business and Sustainability Conclave.

EU and India can strengthen each other's strategic autonomy by reducing dependencies, cooperating on critical technologies and ensuring supply-chain restructuring.

Foreign ministers of Denmark and Czech Republic — Lars Løkke Rasmussen and Jan Lipavský — participated.

EAM S Jaishankar with his Danish counterpart Lars Lokke Rasmussen at the 'India-Europe Business and Sustainability Conclave' in Delhi on Tuesday | SHEKHAR YADAV

In June last year, India and the European Union restarted the negotiations for the long-pending trade and investment agreement after a gap of over eight years. Launched in June 2007, the negotiations for the proposed agreement have witnessed many hurdles as both sides had major differences on crucial issues.

"When it comes to green transition, clean energy is key to the partnership," Jaishankar said adding that the conclave included the three pillars representing the three working groups announced within the India-EU Trade and Technology Council — trade, green transition and digital partnership.

Dr Jaishankar also added that India is expected to be the only major economy to keep growing in the foreseeable future. Danish FM Rasmussen echoed his thoughts saying that he was impressed by the nation's green transition progress since 2019.

Human trafficking too high in India, says US

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE US Department of State in its '2022 Trafficking in Persons' report has stated that India does not fully meet the minimum standards for the elimination of trafficking.

It also has stated that 22 of India's 36 states and Union Territories (UTs) did not report identifying any bonded labour victims or filing any cases under the relevant rules even as the acquittal rate for traffickers remained at 89 per cent.

The report has also stated that the government did not report investigating, prosecuting, or convicting government officials for alleged involvement in trafficking crimes.

The report, released recently, has also expressed dismay as the government did no updates to its national action plan (NAP) to combat trafficking in persons or amend Section 370 of the Indian Penal Code to remove the requirement of force, fraud, or coercion to prove child sex trafficking.

It said the lack of sufficient political will across many states to address bonded labour stymied efforts nationwide.

Citing figures, the report states that 6,622 trafficking victims in 2022 were reported identified; in addition, there were 694 potential trafficking victims. In 2019, it said, 5,145 trafficking victims and 2,505 potential victims were identified.

In 2020, the government identified 5,156 victims in labour trafficking, including 2,837 in bonded labour and 1,466 in sex trafficking but the government did not report the type of trafficking for the 694 potential victims in 2020.

The US Department of State report, quoting the Ministry of Labour and Employment's annual report, stated that despite about 8 million Indians estimated to be in bonded labour, the ministry in its report has stated that the government had identified and rescued only 3,13,962 people since 1976.

"Karnataka, Tamil Nadu, and UP accounted for the majority of bonded labour victims identified in 2020 with 1,291 from Karnataka, 289 from Tamil Nadu and 1,026 from Uttar Pradesh respectively," the report says.

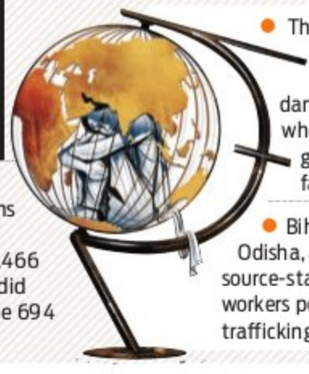
FAR FROM MEETING STANDARDS: STATE DEPT

In 2022 6,622 trafficking victims were reported to have been identified; in addition 694 were identified as potential victims.

In 2019 5,145 trafficking victims and 2,505 potential trafficking victims were identified.

In 2020 the government identified 5,156 victims in 'labour trafficking', including 2,837 in bonded labour and 1,466 in sex trafficking. But the government did not report the type of trafficking for the 694 potential victims in 2020.

- Some traffickers kidnap children from public places, including railway stations, entice girls with drugs, and force girls as young as 5-year-old to take hormone injections to appear older for sex trafficking.



- The traffickers also kidnap and force Indian and Nepali women and girls to work as 'orchestra dancers' in India, especially in Bihar, where girls perform with dance groups until they have repaid fabricated debts.
- Bihar, Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Odisha, and Uttar Pradesh were major source-states for economically vulnerable workers potentially exposed to labour trafficking.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi will witness 11,140 dancers and drummers performing on Bihu in Guwahati to make it to the Guinness Book of World Records as the largest recital of the folk dance form.

MP economy in bounce-back mode, suggests survey

Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan says govt has shown financial discipline and good governance as GSDP has grown by 16.43%

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bhopal

A day before presenting its last full-fledged annual budget, the Shivraj Singh Chouhan government tabled Madhya Pradesh's economic survey 2022-23 in the Vidhan Sabha on Tuesday.

Claiming that the state's economy was truly in the bounce-back mode after setbacks caused by the Covid-19 pandemic, Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan said, "The latest economic survey figures show that that state's financial management and economic condition are sound."

"The statistics are also an apt indicator that we've ensured inclusive development as well as continued to expand the size of the Budget along with ensuring financial discipline and good governance," he said.

Detailing the media the key takeaways from the economic survey 2022-23, the CM said, "I'm proud to tell you that the gross state domestic product (GSDP) has grown in 2022-23 by a strong 16.43%. The steady GSDP growth after 18.02% growth in 2021-22 shows that MP is growing in a sustained manner in all spheres, despite the Covid-19 pandemic."

Compared with 2001-02 GSDP of ₹71,594, the growth has peaked to ₹13,22,000 crore in 2022-23, which means a jump of 18 times in two decades. The per capita income which stood at ₹11,718 in 2001-02 grew to ₹38,497 in 2011-12 and a decade later it has peaked to ₹1,40,500, which speaks volumes about rising sources of income for people.

"Often we're accused of funding the economy with mounting debt, but the figures in this economic survey speak otherwise. The debt-GSDP ratio which stood at 39.5% in 2005 has declined to 22.6% in 2020-21, which clearly shows how the debt is declining compared to the rise in the GSDP," the CM maintained.

"Even on the capital expenditure front, the figure which stood at ₹ 37,89 crore in 2021-22 has grown by 23.18% to ₹45,685 crore in 2022-23. The industrial growth which was in the negative (-0.61%) in 2001-02 was pegged at 24% in 2022-23. The revenue receipts too have risen by an average 7.94% over the last three years."

A lowdown into the sector-wise picture drawn by the economic survey showed that in the agriculture sector, the total area grew by 5.46% during 2021-22 compared to 2020-21, while the yield of crops in the agriculturally rich state grew by 4.16% in the same period. The state produced 352.7 lakh-tonne wheat in 2022-23 compared to 174.8 lakh tonnes in 2013-14, while paddy production grew from 53.2 lakh tonnes to 131.8 lakh tonnes in the same period.

The total exports of the state grew by 8.4% between 2017 and 2022. Among the land-locked states (Haryana, Rajasthan, Punjab, Jharkhand, Chhattisgarh and MP), MP has overtaken Rajasthan in terms of exports value and is in second place now, followed by Haryana, according to the Export Preparedness Index 2021 Report.

The economic survey 2022-23 also stated that foreign direct investment (FDI) is continuously increasing in the state, as it received ₹1,560 crore/USD208 Million as FDI between April 2021 and March 2022.

In the tourism sector, one of the key sectors of MP's economy, post-COVID-19 pandemic growth is all evident, as there has been a 122% increase in the number of tourists at religious places and 58% increase in other tourist places in the state in 2022 compared to 2021.

The institutional deliveries which in 2005-06 was 26% rose to 90.7% in 2019-21, while the child mortality rate which was 70 per 1000 live births in 2005-06 fell drastically to 41.3 per thousand live births.

SURVEY'S KEY INDICATORS

- Gross State Domestic Product (GSDP) at constant prices this year up by 7.06%

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

MORE than 17 years after then BSP MLA Raju Pal was shot dead in UP's Prayagraj, the case is tied up in knots following two related murders in the past week. Bizarrely, what has now followed is a photo war between the ruling BJP and the Samajwadi Party with the arrest of one of the main conspirators, Sadaqat Khan, in the killing last Friday of Umesh Pal, the prime witness in the 2005 murder.

Sadaqat was arrested by the UP Police's Special Task Force from Gorakhpur and handed over to the Prayagraj police late Monday night.

Sadaqat Khan was allegedly close to gangster-turned-politician Atiq Ahmed's family. Police sources said Sadaqat had been living illegally in the Muslim Boarding House, a hostel of Allahabad University. The plot to kill Umesh Pal, the prime witness in the 2005 murder of the then-sitting BSP MLA Raju Pal, was hatched in his room.

However, on Tuesday, the BJP leaders took to Twitter to flash an undated picture of Sadaqat Khan with Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav.

The SP responded by sharing another picture of Sadaqat seen with former BJP MLA Neelam Karwariya's husband Uday Bhan Karwariya.

Describing the Samajwadi Party a "nursery of criminals", UP Deputy CM Brajesh Pathak said the government had zero tolerance against crime. "We're committed to ensuring that no matter what reach any criminal has, we won't spare that person," Pathak said in the Assembly.

Sadaqat Khan with Akhilesh Yadav

On the other, BJP MLA from Prayagraj Siddharth Nath Singh said: "SP has protected people like him (Sadaqat Khan). SP should answer how many criminals they have nurtured."

Meanwhile, Akhilesh Yadav claimed that anyone could come up and get a photo clicked with a public figure.

The SP's Ameeque Jamei also shared an image of Sadaqat with former BJP MLA Uday Bhan Karwariya.

On Monday, the UP Police gunned down a 24-year-old man who was wanted for his alleged role in the killing of Umesh Pal.

It's official: Guj's public debt rises to ₹3.4L cr, each resident owes ₹48,500

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

ACCORDING to data tabled in the Gujarat assembly, the public debt of the 'developed state' has reached a whopping ₹3.40 lakh crore. The figure stood at ₹3.20 lakh crore at the end of March last year, which means that every resident of the state had a debt of ₹46,000, which has since climbed to ₹48,500.

Economists have expressed concern at the situation. Eminent economist and former Vice Chancellor of Gujarat Vidyapith, Dr. Sudarshan Iyengar said, "Debt is required to run any state, but the key question is how this debt is repaid. Most state debts are repaid through various taxes, so if the state's debt rises, it is almost certain that the government will raise taxes on the general public in the coming days to compensate."

Even as the Opposition has repeatedly questioned the state government's increasing public debt figure, the government stated in the assembly on Monday that the public debt as per the revised estimate for the fiscal year 2021-22 is ₹3,20,812 crore. As per the revised estimate, the government has paid ₹23,063 crore in interest on public debt in the fiscal year 2021-22. In addition, ₹24,454 crore in debt was reduced and paid in installments.

In response to queries posed by two Congress leaders, Arjun Modhwadia and Amit Chavda, about public debt in the assembly, the government stated that ₹17,812 crore has been borrowed from financial institutions at interest rates ranging from 2.75 to 8.75 per cent. A market loan of ₹2,64,703 crore attracted 6.68 to 9.75 per cent.

An NSSF loan of ₹28,497 crore was taken at an interest rate of 9.50 to 10.50 per cent, while ₹9,799 crore was borrowed as Central debt at interest rates from 0 to 13 per cent.

As of January 31, 2023, the state government had paid ₹ 22,023 crore in interest for the fiscal year 2020-21, and ₹23,063 crore in interest for the fiscal year 2021-22. As the government reduced the debt, it paid ₹17,920 crore in 2020-21 and ₹24,454 crore in 2021-22.

WHAT CAG SAID

As per a 2022 CAG report, the public debt of the Gujarat government stood at ₹3,08,000 crore as on March 31, 2021, much more than that its annual budget of ₹2,40,000 crore for 2022-23.

CAG said Gujarat would have to repay ₹1,67,000 crore or 61% of its public debt by the next 7 years. Gujarat's public debt has been projected to touch ₹4,50,000 crore by the end of 2024-25

Gujarati to be mandatory for class 1-8

NEW DELHI: The Gujarat Assembly on Tuesday unanimously passed the 'Gujarat Compulsory Teaching and Learning of Gujarati Language Bill, 2023' Bill, mandating the Gujarati language to be taught in all primary schools in the state, including those connected to the CBSE, ICSE, and IB boards. According to the Bill, a school will be required to pay a fine of ₹50,000 if it is discovered to have violated the rules for the first time. The fine will rise to ₹1 lakh and then ₹2 lakh for subsequent infractions. The state government may also order the concerned board or institution to disaffiliate a school which fails to adhere to the stipulation. As per the Bill, schools that are not currently teaching Gujarati will be required to do so in phases beginning with the upcoming academic year 2023-24.

Row over missing PM pic on G20 posters in J'khand

MUKESH RANJAN @Ranchi

MISSING photographs of Prime Minister Narendra Modi in the posters and hoardings put all over the Jharkhand capital has sparked controversy as BJP has called it cheap mentality of Hemant Soren Government by not giving proper space to the person who is presiding over the G20 summit in India.

Meanwhile, preparations for the G-20 Summit are in the final stage as the delegates are set to reach Ranchi between March 1 and March 3. Five senior IAS officers have been given responsibilities for ensuring proper arrangements to be made during the proposed Summit and visit of the delegates to Patratu Resort.

Notably, thousands of hoardings and posters having pictures of CM Soren have been put up all over the capital on the routes determined for the delegates coming to Ranchi for G-20 summit, but surprisingly, PM Modi has not been given any space in those posters, which irked BJP leaders.

Ranchi Mayor Asha Lakra also attacked the state government saying that it appears that the G20 Summit is being presided by CM Hemant Soren and not PM Modi. Congress Minister Banna Gupta, however, said that PM Modi is recognized all over the world as a world leader, therefore, he should not get into such little things. People with a big personality, would not get smaller just by not giving place in the posters," said Gupta.

Militants who killed Kashmiri Pandit shot dead in encounter

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

TWO local militants allegedly involved in the gunning down of Sanjay Sharma, a Kashmiri Pandit working as a bank guard, were killed in an encounter with security forces in Awantipora area of Pulwama in Jammu and Kashmir on Tuesday.

An Army jawan was killed and another injured during the operation. DIG, south Kashmir, Rayees Mohammad Bhat, said that acting on a specific input, a joint contingent of the Army, the police and the CRPF launched a cordon and search operation in Padgampora village of Awantipora around midnight.

"During the search, militants hiding inside a mosque opened fire on the forces and in the initial exchange of gunfire, two Army men sustained injuries. They were evacuated to the Army hospital, where one of the injured men succumbed to his injuries," he said.

The official said a militant holed-up in the mosque was killed in the operation during which extreme caution and limited firepower was used in view of the sacred precincts of the religious place.

The civilians in the mosque were evacuated to prevent any collateral damage, he said. The second militant was holed up inside the bathroom of an adjacent building. "14 civilians were rescued from the place," Bhat said. The deceased militants were identified as Aqib Mushtaq Bhat, who was earlier associated with HM but was now associated with TRF, and Aijaz Ahmad Bhat of Jaish-e-Mohammad.

The police said Aqib was active since January 2021 and Aijaz since May 2022 and both were working in coordination with TRF. According to the police, investigations have revealed that both the militants were involved in killing of Sanjay Sharma at Achen, Pulwama on Sunday. Sanjay was shot dead on Sunday while he was on his way to a local market.

Muslims in Achan village stand with Pandits in good as well as bad times

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

AFTER helping in restoring an old temple in 2019, the Muslim community of Achan, a sleepy hamlet in south Kashmir's Pulwama district, once again displayed the bond they share with the Kashmiri Pandit community by not only sharing the grief of Sanjay Sharma's family but also making arrangements for his last rites.

Sanjay, a security guard in a J&K Bank ATM, was shot dead by militants while he was on way to the local market in the village on Sunday.

Sanjay's family had decided not to migrate from Kashmir after the eruption of militancy in the 1990s.

"He was like our brother. The entire village shares the grief of the family and condemns the killing. This killing has brought a bad name to our village. Our village has been an example of communal harmony," said one of the family's Muslim neighbours.

The Muslim community made arrangements for Sanjay's last rites on Monday. They carried his body to the cremation ground and arranged for the wood for the cremation.

In March 2019, Muslims of the village had helped the Pandits in the renovation of an 80-year-old Swami Jagannath Asthanpan Bhairvi temple in the village.

'Apple created 1 lakh jobs in India'

Co shifted focus to India after manufacturers in China faced shutdown, says telecom minister

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

US tech giant Apple has provided nearly 1 lakh jobs in the past one-and-a-half years in the country, Union Telecom Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw said on Tuesday.

Vaishnaw, while speaking to this reporter, said this was possible due to Prime Minister Narendra Modi's "Make in India" efforts.

"When the Prime Minister launched the 'Make in India' programme, people said many things about the scheme...but he was focused on this point only. Today, we can see the result," said Vaishnaw.

In 2022, the Cupertino-based company shifted its focus to India after its prime manufacturers and assembling plants in China faced a complete shutdown in 2022 due to its zero Covid policy. Last month (January 2022), Union Minister of Commerce and Industry Piyush Goyal said Apple Inc is planning to ramp up its production in the country from 5-7% to 25%. The country's telecom sector has been conferred on "global government leadership award" by the London-based telco body GSM Association (GSMA). Talking about the major shift in the smartphone industry in the country, Vaishnaw said India used to import 99% smartphones from all over the world just 10 years ago, but thanks to the scheme, 99% of smartphones (in India) are now made in India.

"This is a big achievement," said the minister. This year, according to Vaishnaw, India will export mobile phones worth $10 billion. "Now there is the entire component ecosystem here, as volumes have increased. In the coming years, you will see exponential growth in electronics manufacturing and telecom manufacturing," added the minister.

On the deployment of 5G in the country, the minister said India will cover 100% of the 5G network by the end of December 2024. So far, 5G services have been launched in 387 districts by Reliance Jio and Bharti Airtel across the country. Jio is deploying a 5G standalone (SA) network, whereas rival Airtel is deploying a 5G non-standalone (NSA) network. "By the end of December 2024, we should achieve 100% coverage. 1 lakh base transceiver stations (BTSs) have been installed today." The government will table Telecom Bill 2022 in the Monsoon session as the second draft of the bill is almost ready.

Jio's 5G rollout will be world's fastest: Ambani

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

RELIANCE Jio's 5G rollout will be the world's fastest, said Akash, son of Reliance Group Chairman Mukesh Ambani and head of Reliance Jio.

Akash, while addressing a post-budget webinar also said the high-speed fifth generation cellular network 5G will have immense impact on the country's growing economy.

It will transform healthcare services, education, agriculture and disaster management, making cities smarter and societies safer.

"Five months ago, on October 1, 2022, Prime Minister (Narendra Modi) inaugurated 5G services in India. In less than half a year, the industry has retooled itself and is rapidly bringing the 5G revolution to every nook and corner of the country," said Akash Ambani, chairman of Reliance Jio.

Investors lose ₹10.6L cr as mkt falls for 8th straight session

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

DOMESTIC equity market extended losing streak for the eighth straight session with the BSE benchmark Sensex skidding below the 59,000 level on Tuesday.

Investors have lost ₹10.6 lakh crore since February 16 as the market capitalisation of BSE-listed companies reduced to ₹257.7 lakh crore, according to provisional exchange data.

The 30-share index closed the Tuesday session at 58,962, down 326 points from the previous session's closing. It has fallen 2,357 points or about 4% below its 16th February close of 61,319. The NSE Nifty50, on the other hand, closed 89 points lower at 17,304, and fell below its 200-DMA (Daily Moving Average) which stands at 17,384 - a key technical indicator on the charts. As per the market experts, global investors' interest in the domestic equity market is weakening due slowdown of the economy amidst rising inflation and fear of more interest rate hikes to curb the same.

Indian GDP growth slowed to 4.4% in the October-December quarter of the current fiscal on account of weak demand and high inflation, showed government data on Tuesday. The US Federal Reserve, along with other central banks, have already hinted at more future rate hikes to bring down consumer inflation.

Shrikant Chouhan, head of equity research (Retail), Kotak Securities, said, "Weak sentiment continued to prevail as traders wary of current headwinds unwounded their position in commodity stocks such as metals and oil & gas. The market is already in an oversold position, but India's high valuation compared to other markets seems to have caught up with the investors who are cutting their long positions."

According to Vinod Nair, head of research at Geojit Financial Services, funds are being diverted to safe assets, and corporate earnings growth is dropping, affecting the performance of the stock market and demanding downgrade in valuation. The double whammy for India is that it is expensive compared to other emerging markets, resulting in underperformance among the global market, added Nair.

On the sectoral front, most sectors traded under pressure on Tuesday. The BSE Metal index shed 2.4%, the Oil & Gas and Energy indices dropped 1.4% each, and the Healthcare index fell 1%.

Adani stocks snap losing streak; 4 Group shares hit upper circuit

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

EIGHT Adani Group stocks pared losses after falling sharply in early trade and closed the Tuesday session with decent gains. Only 2 stocks of the Group closed with a cut.

The rebound in Adani shares comes amidst reports that the embattled Group will prepay or repay share-backed loans worth $690 million to $790 million by March-end as it looks to generate confidence among investors after being deeply wounded by the allegations of Hindenburg Research.

While the eight stocks of the conglomerate rebounded on Tuesday, all of them have lost substantial market value in the last one month.

Adani Enterprises fell 7.5% in the morning to hit an intraday low of ₹1,104 but surged over 25% from the day's low to hit a high of ₹1,392. The scrip closed 15% higher at ₹1,371 and snapped a seven-day losing streak. After hitting the lower circuit of 5% in the morning, four Adani stocks- Adani Power, Adani Green Energy, NDTV and Adani Wilmar- were locked in the upper circuit of 5% as the session progressed. Meanwhile, Adani Transmission extended losses for 14 straight sessions while Adani Total Gas fell for 25 consecutive trading sessions.

Adani Ports & SEZ (APSEZ), after hitting the day's high of Rs 614.45, closed 5% higher at Rs 590.70. APSEZ gained after brokerage firm JM Financial gave a bullish outlook.

"APSEZ has delivered supreme market share gains in India in the past decade (10ppt+ in overall share; 16ppt+ in container cargo) and is expected to sustain that in future with organic and inorganic growth. We estimate APSEZ to generate cumulative operational cash flow of Rs 26100 crore in FY24-25 and have a capex of Rs 12000 crore, resulting in Rs 14000 crore of free cash flow, substantially higher than its debt-repayment obligations (Rs 11000 crore)," said JM Financial on Tuesday morning while giving a target price of Rs 800 per share.

Shares of Adani Group's cement companies- Ambuja Cement and ACC- also gained on Tuesday following the positive report of debt repayment.

Will meet upcoming maturities in Q1: Vedanta

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

BILLIONAIRE Anil Agarwal-promoted Vedanta Resources Ltd said on Tuesday it is fully confident of meeting its upcoming maturities in quarter ending June 2023.

"We have multiple options for both refinancing as well as repayment through internal accruals. We are in advance stage to tie up required financing through a~US$1 bn fresh loan from a syndicate of banks," the company said in a statement.

"We are also close to finalise $750 mn bilateral facilities with various relationship banks. The remaining liquidity requirements can be addressed internally."

The statement from Vedanta comes amid concerns over its ability to meet debt commitments, esspecially at a time when the government is opposing the planned sale of its international zinc business. Shares of Vendanta, the Indian subsidiary of Vedanta Resources, fell 7% on Tuesday to ₹268 a piece on the BSE. The company's share has fallen by over 30% in the past one year and 18% in the past one month. Vedanta Group's London-based entity, Vedanta Resources Limited, is highly leveraged and has consolidated net debt of $11.8 billion. As per reports, yields on the bonds of Vedanta Resources has shot up to 39.8%, a setback for the Group.

S&P Global Ratings had recently stated if Vedanta Resources is unable to advance either $2 billion fundraising exercise or sale of its international zinc assets to Hindustan Zinc in near future, its credit rating will face an 'immediate strain.'

JAPAN

BUDGET INCLUDES HEFTY ARMS COST TO DETER CHINA

Part of Japan's effort to fortify its military as China's influence in the region grows, the lower house of Parliament approved on Tuesday a budget for the coming fiscal year that includes a record 6.8 trillion yen ($50 billion) in defence spending. The 2023 defence budget, a rise of 20% from a year ago, includes 211.3 billion yen ($1.55 billion) for deployment of US-made long-range Tomahawk cruise missiles that can be launched from warships and can hit targets up to 1,600 kilometers (1,000 miles) away. The planned purchase of Tomahawks has drawn criticism over the cost, with opposition lawmakers blasting Prime Minister Fumio Kishida for prioritising arms spending over other issues such as Japan's shrinking population. "The improvement of childcare has been neglected for more than 10 years," Chinami Nishimura, a lawmaker with the opposition Constitutional Democratic Party of Japan, told a lower house budget committee meeting Tuesday.

SRI LANKA

TRADE UNIONS TO HOLD STRIKE ON MARCH 1

Trade unions in Sri Lanka will go ahead with their one-day token strike scheduled on March 1 to protest the government's tax and utility rates hikes defying an essential services order issued by President Ranil Wickremesinghe. The trade unions belonging to various sectors had earlier urged the Sri Lankan government to withdraw its tax hikes and warned to hold a nationwide strike on March 1 if their demands were not met. The government introduced tax hikes with effect from January widely believed to be on demand by the International Monetary Fund (IMF). Wickremesinghe last night gazetted the essential services order covering public transport, goods transportation, and all work related to ports and airports. 'The essential services gazette was issued after the trade unions gave notice of strike action', a member of the Teachers' Trade Union, Joseph Stalin said.

Fiscal deficit widens 27% in Apr-Jan on high capex, fall in non-tax revenues

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Centre's fiscal deficit in the first 10 months of the current financial year has widened by 27% to ₹11.90 lakh crore compared to ₹9.4 lakh crore in the same period last year.

The fiscal deficit in the April-January period has reached 68% of the revised full year target of ₹17.55 lakh crore, data from the Comptroller General of Accounts (CGA) showed. On a month-on-month basis the fiscal deficit increased 20% to over ₹9.93 lakh crore in December.

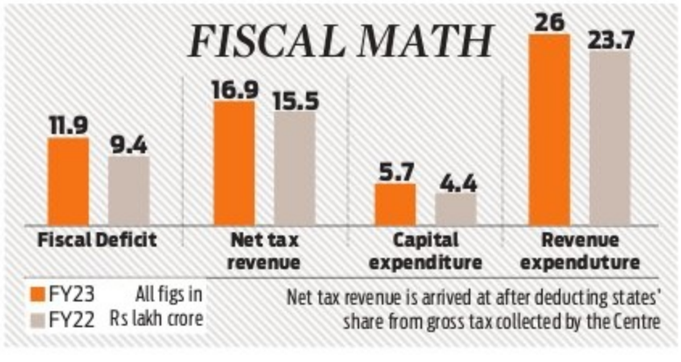
The widening of the fiscal deficit could be attributed to moderate growth in net tax revenues (9% year-on-year) amid sharp contraction (21%) in non-tax revenues, and a 29% month-on-month growth in capex during the month. Revenue expenditure, or expenses on salaries and pensions, grew at 9.7% y-o-y during first 10 months of the financial year.

The government's gross tax collection during April-January 2022-23 showed a 12.6% growth at ₹23.62 lakh crore largely driven by a strong growth in GST (24.5%) and income tax (18.9%) collections. Corporate tax collections grew at 14.84%.

However, excise duty collections fell by 19.26% during the April-January period.

"While there may be modest deviations from the revised estimates for direct taxes, disinvestment receipts and certain categories expenditures, ICRA does not expect the fiscal deficit to materially exceed the revised target of Rs. 17.6 lakh crore for FY2023," says Aditi Nayar, chief economist at ICRA.

For the current financial year, the government targets to keep its fiscal deficit at 6.4% of the GDP. For the next financial year, the government has budgeted a fiscal deficit target of 5.9%.



SBI completes $1 bn syndicated social loan

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

COUNTRY'S largest commercial bank, State Bank of India (SBI) on Tuesday announced completion of a $1 billion Syndicated Social Loan Facility.

This syndicated transaction is significant for SBI and the Indian ESG financing market since it is the biggest ESG (environment, social and governance) loan by a commercial bank in the Asia Pacific and the second-largest social loan globally. Additionally, this is the bank's inaugural social loan and the first syndicated loan in the past five years.

"As a responsible and sustainable organization, we are committed to conducting our business operations with the highest standards of environmental, social, and governance (ESG) practices," said Dinesh Khara, Chairman, SBI in a statement. "Issuance of our first social loan is an embodiment of our commitment to ESG driven by our belief that our long-term success depends not only on our financial performance," he added.

Sebi bans 21 in Axis MF front running case

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

In connection with the front-running case, capital markets regulator Sebi on Tuesday barred 21 entities, including Axis Mutual Fund's former fund manager Viresh Joshi, from the securities market.

The regulator has also ordered impounding wrongful gains worth ₹30.56 crore earned by them through "prima facie" front running activities. Front-running is an illegal practice in the stock market where an entity trades on the basis of advance information from a broker or analyst before the information has been made available to their clients. The present proceeding involves the front running of trades of Axis MF deals with a few suspected entities and trading members who have worked in close coordination with each other to front run the trades of a big client during the period from September 2021 to March 31, 2022. During the probe, Sebi found entities connected to Joshi, then chief dealer of Axis MF, traded in different securities

IMF has projected 6.8% growth for FY23

HOWEVER, economic shocks from bad weather conditions or any other unexpected events could spoil the math.

A government statement put the size of the GDP at constant (2011-12) prices in Q3 2022-23 at ₹40.19 lakh crore, against ₹38.51 lakh crore in the year-ago period — showing a growth of 4.4%. "GDP at current prices in Q3 2022-23 is estimated at ₹69.38 lakh crore, as against ₹62.39 lakh crore a year ago, showing a growth of 11.2%," the statement read.

The Reserve Bank of India had lowered the country's growth projection to 6.8% from 7% amid tightening of global financial conditions and geopolitical tensions. Meanwhile, the IMF has projected a growth of 6.8% for FY23. According to experts, the third quarter GDP growth decline was driven by both domestic and external factors. "Global demand slowdown had already begun to hurt India's export and industrial growth," said Dipti Deshpande, principal economist, CRISIL.

Citibank customers to become part of Axis Bank from today

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

WITH Axis Bank expected to complete the deal to acquire Citibank India's consumer business on Wednesday, thousands of Citi's customers in the country will become part of Axis Bank.

In March last year, Axis Bank had announced to buy Citibank's consumer business in India for ₹12,325 crore ($1.6 billion) in cash. The consumer business of Citibank, which started operations in India in 1902, includes loans, credit cards, wealth management and retail banking operations.

The conclusion of deal means Citibank branches and ATMs will be re-branded as Axis Bank branches and ATMs. However, for Citibank customers, nothing much will change as their account number, fees, charges, and services will remain same. "For Citibank customers, it will be merely a change of bank's name. There will be no change in account number, IFSC, MICR codes for Citi customers and they can continue to use your debit, credit cards, ATMs, and cheque books as usual," a senior Axis Bank official told this newspaper.

All their standing instructions with regards to loan payments, bill payments, or any other account transfer will continue," he added. There will be no change in customers' debit card, withdrawal limits and existing card will be functional with all benefits and features. The acquisition agreement between Citibank and Axis Bank on March 30 last year, will give India's private sector lender hold of credit card portfolio of 25 lakh users and deposits of ₹50,200 crore. Axis Bank will gain access to seven offices, 21 branches, and 499 ATMs owned and operated by Citibank.

Axis Bank had set a timeline of 12 months to complete this acquisition. In July last year, it received approval from the Competition Commission of India (CCI) for the same.

In 2021, Citi announced it will cease consumer and retail operations in 13 nations in Asia and Europe, including India, Australia, Bahrain, China, Indonesia, Korea, Malaysia, the Philippines, Poland, Russia, Taiwan, Thailand, and Vietnam. Existing Citibank customers will be able to access Axis Bank ATMs and number of free transactions available to them will be extended to Axis Bank ATMs.

WFI chief attends hearing, probe nears end

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

EMBATTLED Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) president Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh appeared before the oversight committee, which is investigating sexual allegations and other charges against him, on Tuesday. It is learnt that the hearing went on for around 2:30-3 hours at the conference hall of the Sports Authority of India (SAI) in New Delhi.

As was reported by this daily, all six members of the committee were present in person for the hearing. Singh had earlier requested all members to remain present in person saying it will help him communicate properly and present his version in a better way.

"Singh rejected all allegations levelled against him during the hearing," sources in the know of things told this daily. "Wrestlers had already deposed before the committee. Others including coaches and support staff had also recorded their statements in the due course of the time. With Singh's appearance before the committee, the probe seems to have been over. The committee after completing remaining formalities is expected to submit its report to the sports ministry," added a source. Singh, who is also a member of parliament from the ruling party, reached the SAI headquarters along with his around two dozen supporters.

The country's top wrestlers including Bajrang Punia, Vinesh Phogat and Sakshi Malik had staged a protest at Jantar Mantar in the national capital from January 18 to 20 accusing Singh of sexual harassment, misappropriation of funds and other irregularities.

The ongoing tussle between the WFI and wrestlers also meant the country lost the hosting rights of the Asian Championships scheduled to begin in New Delhi on March 28. The United World Wrestling, the world governing body, shifted the championships to Astana, Kazakhstan. The event will now be held in April.

The sports ministry constituted the oversight committee to probe the charges.

Bumrah set to miss out on IPL 2023

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

JASPRIT Bumrah's wait to play competitive cricket may continue further as the 29-year-old Gujarat pacer is expected to miss the entire IPL 2023 after failing to recover fully from a back injury, which ruled him out of the T20 World Cup last year. Sources in the know of developments told this daily that Bumrah, who plies his trade for Mumbai Indians in the cash-rich league, has been advised surgery. "Yes, he has been advised to undergo surgery as the recurring back injury has been troubling him for quite some time. The National Cricket Academy (NCA), Bengaluru along with the Indian cricket board (BCCI) has been looking into the issue. In all likelihood, he will go for surgery. They are looking into the options available both in the country and overseas," said the sources.

He may also miss the World Test Championship (WTC) final, if India qualify, which starts on June 7 at The Oval, London. Bumrah suffered the injury last August, which ruled him out of the Asia Cup. Later, he was named in the India squad for the T20 World Cup apart from the squads for the Australia and SA T20I series at home ahead of marquee event. Meanwhile, his IPL franchise neither confirmed nor denied the information regarding his unavailability for the upcoming season.

With World Test Championships summit clash berth in mind, hosts take on tottering Australia in Indore; changes likely in playing XI

INDIA TAKE FINAL TURN

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Indore

WHEN the original itinerary landed for the series, the venue for the third Test grabbed eyeballs. The picturesque Himachal Pradesh Cricket Association Stadium in Dharamsala was going to be the setting, with the snow capped mountains forming a spectacular backdrop.

However, with the work on the relaid outfield not progressing on expected lines, the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) had no option but to move it. That's how Indore got the right to stage the third Test. Even though India may have wrapped the Border-Gavasakar Trophy for another cycle (as they are the current holders, they will retain it), there is still a lot riding on this and the last Test in Ahmedabad.

If the hosts win at the Holkar Stadium, they can rubber stamp their entry into the second World Test Championship final, to be staged in England in June. With the surface at The Oval expected to be vastly different, India may look at the option of staging a dress rehearsal of sorts.

"There is definitely a possibility of that," skipper Rohit Sharma said when quizzed on the possibility of requesting a green top for the Ahmedabad Test. "We have already spoken about it. We need to get the guys ready for it. The important one is Shardul Thakur (he's the side's preferred all-rounder in overseas conditions), because he comes into the planning for us. We don't know how ready he is since he has got just married. We don't know how many overs he has bowled. But that thought process is definitely there. If we do what we do here and get the result we want, we might think of doing something different in Ahmedabad for sure," he added during the pre-match press conference.

Staying in Indore, India may look at the option of opening with Shubman Gill in place of KL Rahul. While Sharma didn't give anything away, if Tuesday's optional training session was anything to go by, it looks like Gill has had a quiet word in his ear. He spent more than one hour inside multiple nets facing a variety of bowling types (Rahul opted to skip the session). Barring fitness issues, the other 10 players pick themselves. With the pitch expected to play on similar lines — the fuller lengths on both areas of the strip was dry with the centre of the wicket having some grass on match eve — there is no reason to move away from the existing plans.

For the visitors, though, it couldn't be more different. They arrived in India with a bunch of plans but they have, willingly or otherwise, been forced to throw most of them into the nearest bin. Regular captain, Pat Cummins, is back home as his mother is in palliative care. Second spinner when the tour began, Ashton Agar, has left home to play domestic cricket after falling down the pecking order. Two other spinners have been capped for the first time when both weren't expected to feature. Opener David Warner is also back home, nursing a broken elbow. Matt Renshaw has gone from an early bolter to the naughty step inside six days. They also fell into the trap of the sweep shot — a poisoned chalice at the best of times — and got bowled out in under 40 overs in New Delhi.

Need to stick to our plans: Smith

They can ill-afford another collapse. Not just because that will mean surrendering the series. They need one positive result (win or a draw) from the remaining two Tests to qualify for the WTC final. So, what can they do to raise an admittedly low bar. Stand-in skipper, Steve Smith, said they had to stick to their plans.

"For us, it's about sticking to our plans and methods for long periods of time," he said on Tuesday. "In the second innings in Delhi, a lot of us went away from our plans and got undone by them. We can hopefully apply pressure on the spinners and post good totals on the board. That's key for us. Hopefully, we can put that into practice in the middle and execute under pressure." Multiple batters — including Smith — perished to the sweep when some of them don't even count on it all that much. In this context, it was fascinating to watch their training session.

Most of them stayed away from their sweep while Smith preferred using his feet. Can they successfully do that during the match? It could be the difference between another one-sided contest or an engaging one.

TALKING POINTS AHEAD OF THIRD TEST

RAHUL OUT, GILL IN?
India have been winning but KL Rahul has been fighting a losing battle in recent times. And it looks like he might lose a spot in the starting XI with Shubman Gill likely to take his spot. Gill was active at nets on Tuesday while Rahul opted to skip the session.

A LOT AT STAKE
Trailing 0-2, the series may be beyond Australia. However, with the World Test Championship final berth on the line, both teams will be intent on getting the result. Focus will be on Steve Smith, the stand-in skipper. It will be interesting to see how he manages his troops, who are visibly lacking clear ideas.

PITCH & CONDITIONS
Expect a similar surface with the strip taking turn from Day 1. But Nathan Lyon (and Ravichandran Ashwin) could both like the surface better as they will have Mitchell Starc's footmarks to work with. Cameron Green's height could also some into the equation

Keeping Shami for better tomorrow

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Indore

IN hindsight, it wasn't a surprise that Mohammed Shami's second Test wicket was uprooting the middle stump of the batter (Marlon Samuels at Eden Gardens in 2013). His third Test wicket (Denesh Ramdin) followed soon after by similar means, the West Indies wicket-keeper losing his off stump. His fourth too left the furniture in disarray, breaching the defences of Sheldon Cottrell.

It was the same story in the second innings. His first fifer saw him breaking through the defences of Daren Sammy, Shane Shillingford and Cottrell again. On debut, the Bengal pacer had figures of 9/118 (six bowled and one lbw).

This, in a microcosm, is what makes Shami a different beast in home conditions. His ability to consistently focus on the stumps — irrespective of the type of batter — by bringing in the low bounce and the reverse swing into play has already caused problems to Australia's batters in the first two Tests.

Four of the seven wickets he has picked up have been bowled, beating batters with his nippy pace off the surface before going past the inside edge (the low bounce also challenges the batters' under edge). If you cast your mind back to the first morning of the opening Test in Nagpur, he beat David Warner in similar fashion.

In fact, from the time he made his debut, he's the best fast bowler in India (minimum = 5 Tests) in terms of average (20.63) and strike rate (40.6) and second-best for wickets (74). Out of that 74, 44 have come via bowled (27) or leg-before (17). He's again the clear leader among pacers for these two modes of dismissals in India since his debut.

While Shami is an important cog in India's wheel, he's also an all-format operator. With fitness concerns remaining over Jasprit Bumrah, if they do decide to give him a breather, they can call upon readymade replacement Umesh Yadav, who's almost a Shami clone. Like Shami, he also targets the stumps. Like him, he also gets the ball to reverse as well get some early inward movement with a new ball. The proof is in the pudding; Yadav leads all pacers for wickets in this time period with 80 (17 leg before and 19 bowled, both second highest after Shami).

Coming back to Shami, because he attacks the stumps with both the new and the old balls and isn't afraid to go full against the lower-order, the hosts have been able to profit in different phases of the game. Go back to South Africa in Visakhapatnam in 2019. Across two spells with a newish ball, Shami accounted for the trio of Temba Bavuma, Quinton de Kock and Faf du Plessis by bowling them. With an oldish ball, Dane Piedt's resistance finished as he inside-edged a full-length Shami delivery onto his stumps.

The 32-year-old's ability, also, in a way, is the story of the domination India's pacers have enjoyed when compared to their overseas compatriots in this long unbeaten run of theirs. While Ravichandran Ashwin and Ravindra Jadeja have grabbed eyeballs with their performances up and down the country, the pacers have quietly kept plugging away, targetting the pads and, by extension, the stumps of the visiting batters.

It's no secret that India's pitches don't offer as much bounce as some of the venues overseas but knowing how to use it to their advantage is what counts. From the beginning of this 15-series winning run — the Australian series in 2013 till the end of the New Delhi Test — India's pacers have accounted for 74 of the 131 bowled dismissals. It's similarly skewed in terms of leg-before decisions (65 to 36).

Because these surfaces highlight their strong points and hide their weaknesses — they do the exact opposite for visiting seamers — they have, as a consequence, had the wood over all of them in this time period.

Kagiso Rabada. Trent Boult. Pat Cummins. James Anderson... some of the best 21st century pacers have bowled on these surfaces but have been left in their wake not because of a lack of skill but because they have been brought up in different conditions to the ones on offer. In the first two matches, Australian pacers averaged 51 runs per wicket. India's pacers picked a wicket every 20.1.

Team full of hungry leaders and winners behind Oz supremacy

GOMESH S @ Cape Town

IT'S ten minutes past 11 on Sunday night. The Newlands Stadium that was buzzing a few hours ago has gone back to its serene element. Amidst the silence that had engulfed the stadium in Cape Town for a while now, one could hear some laughter coming from centre of the pitch. Sitting in a circle, celebrating their sixth T20 World Cup title was the Australian team and their support staff.

At this point, it was a familiar sight. In fact, it has become a tradition of sorts in every Women's World Cup, across formats, since 2018 with Australia winning all four of them. So much so that jokes were being made as to there should be two World Cups — one trophy for Australia and the other for the rest of the teams. This Australian team has lost four T20Is since 2020 — in a period where they have secured two T20 WCs and a Commonwealth Games gold. They haven't been defeated even once in their last 28 T20Is. In one of those post-match press conferences during the World Cup, New Zealand skipper Sophie Devine whilst talking about the growth of the women's game said, "Australia are still winning, that's pretty boring," causing a laughter riot.

Ask the Australian team, they would beg to differ. "As many as there is out there, I think," said Beth Mooney, Player of the Match in the final when asked how many more titles this team is going to win. "We don't get tired of it. There are teams around the world getting better and better as the years go on and we know that we're being hunted. People look at us for what we do and how we go about it. So, certainly, it won't last forever but we'll enjoy it for as long as we can."

Jeez. Is it as simple as easy as Mooney puts it? Often the success of this Australian team is attributed to the investment, infrastructure, and consistency in domestic structure, and rightly so. The team is filled with individual stars, people who are products of the system that prepares them to thrive under pressure and be ruthless at the highest level. But there is more to it. Every individual in this squad has had their own journeys and stories that make them who they are as people and cricketers.

Ellyse Perry has been in the limelight since she was 16. The bonafide 'GOAT' was all but out of the T20 squad last year. However, she adapted and evolved as she always does to force her way back into the team. Tahlia McGrath made her debut in 2016 before falling through the cracks. She went back, and worked with Belinda Clark to become one of the clutch players of the team.

Captain Meg Lanning — after CWG, she walked away. She was climbing mountains, waiting tables at a cafe in Melbourne, and whatnot. Having won everything there is to win and with the challenges of the pandemic, she needed the time away from cricket. And from the moment she set foot back on the field again, it was like she never left.

Then there is Ashleigh Gardner — an aboriginal woman, proud of her Muruwari heritage — who has never shied away from standing up for her identity. The 25-year-old's statement on 'Australia Day' and the cricket match that was scheduled to be played on January 26 received a lot of backlash and online abuse. She stood by it and so did her teammates as they rallied around her. It is not just the aforementioned people; Mooney, Jess Jonassen, Georgia Wareham. The list goes on.

Building a team filled with strong individuals who are not just superstars, but leaders in their own right is no mean feat. And it did not happen overnight. When Lanning took over in 2014, she was 21 — the youngest Australian captain ever. While she had taken over a good team with experienced stars, how Lanning, along with former head coach Matthew Mott and her former deputy Rachael Haynes, has built this team into a winning machine is remarkable.

Putin orders border tightening as drones hit Russia

Also, Kremlin's Emergency Ministry informed that several television stations were hacked

KYIV

RUSSIAN President Vladimir Putin on Tuesday ordered officials to tighten control of the border with Ukraine after a spate of drone attacks that Russian authorities blamed on Kyiv delivered a new challenge to Moscow.

While Putin didn't refer to any specific attacks in a speech, his comments came hours after drone attacks targeted several areas in southern and western Russia and authorities closed the airspace over St. Petersburg in response to what some reports said was a drone.

Meanwhile, Ukraine said on Tuesday its troops were under mounting pressure in Bakhmut. As the fighting raged, Moscow said it shot down Ukrainian drones targeting civilian sites in Russian territory while another one crashed near the capital.

AFP aerial footage released Tuesday showed almost all buildings in Bakhmut in ruins and smoke rising over the city.

"The situation around Bakhmut is extremely tense," said the commander of Ukraine's ground forces Oleksandr Syrskyi.

Also on Tuesday, several Russian television stations aired a missile attack warning that officials blamed on a hacking attack. Footage posted by some news sites showed TV sets displaying a yellow sign with a person heading to a bomb shelter, with a female voice repeating, "Attention! Air raid alarm. Everyone should head to a shelter immediately."

Elderly women placard a plastic sheet over a broken windows after shelling in Chasiv Yar, near Bakhmut, Ukraine on Tuesday | AFP

Russia's Emergency Ministry said that the announcement was a hoax "resulting from a hacking of the servers of radio stations and TV channels in some regions of the country."

Ukrainian officials didn't immediately claim responsibility for the attacks.

A flurry of drone attacks on Monday night and Tuesday morning targeted regions inside Russia along the border with Ukraine and deeper into the country.

A drone fell near the village of Gubastovo, 100 kilometres from Moscow, Andrei Vorobyov, governor of the region surrounding Moscow, said.

The drone didn't inflict any damage, Vorobyov said. He didn't specifically describe the drone as Ukrainian, but said that it likely targeted "a civilian infrastructure object." Pictures of the drone showed it was a Ukrainian-made type. It reportedly has a range of up to 800 km, but isn't capable of carrying explosives. Agencies

Blinken announces $25 mn support to Central Asia

ASTANA

SECRETARY of State Antony Blinken on Tuesday promised US help for Central Asia to reduce the region's reliance on Russia, vowing support for the sovereignty of former Soviet republics unnerved by the Ukraine war.

The top US diplomat met his counterparts from all five Central Asian nations where Moscow has long been the top power and a magnet for workers.

Blinken announced $25 million in new support, on top of a previous $25 million announced in September, to help Central Asian nations diversify trade routes and create jobs at home. The initiatives include English-language education, development of electronic payment systems, and training for returned migrant workers.

"I reaffirm the United States' unwavering support for Kazakhstan, like all nations, to freely determine its future, especially as we mark one year since Russia launched a full-scale invasion of Ukraine," Blinken said. In remarks with counterparts from all five nations—Kazakhstan as well as Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan—Blinken said the US backed their "sovereignty, independence and territorial integrity."

The Russian government played down the visit by Blinken to travel to Central Asia. Russia's longstanding cooperation with Central Asia "is what guides us, is where our interests lie and is what we consider as the top priority of our foreign policy," Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov said in Moscow. AFP

TAX HIKE PROTEST

Sri Lankan trade unions to hold one-day strike today

COLOMBO

SRI Lankan trade unions are all set to defy an essential services order issued by President Ranil Wickremesinghe by going ahead with their one-day token strike scheduled on March 1 to protest the government's tax and utility rates hikes.

The trade unions belonging to various sectors had earlier urged the Sri Lankan government to withdraw its tax hikes and warned to hold a nationwide strike on March 1 if their demands were not met.

Wickremesinghe last night gazetted the essential services order covering public transport, goods transportation, and all work related to ports and airports.

"The essential services gazette was issued after the trade unions gave notice of strike action," a member of the Teachers' Trade Union, Joseph Stalin informed.

"We will go ahead as planned with strike action against these illegal tax orders," Ranjan Jayalal of the electricity workers' trade union said.

The doctors, teachers, and bank employees including those from the central bank are said to join the token strike.

"If the government does not take action to reverse the tax proposals, we will go into more serious action from next week," Channa Dissanayake of the bank employees union said.

Wickremesinghe said raising taxes to get over the current economic crisis was an essential step. However, the trade unions allege that the tax revisions were meant to please the IMF as the island awaits a nod from the world lender for a $2.9 billion bailout package.

Wickremesinghe said Sri Lanka needed to raise its tax revenue to that of 2019. The president has said he was aware of the burden placed on people by higher taxes but high taxes are part of rescue operation.

Today's industrial action is set to add to political heat generated by uncertainty over conduct of upcoming polls. PTI

UK's Sunak tours N Ireland to sell his Brexit deal

LONDON

UK PM Rishi Sunak on Tuesday said he is 'over the moon' with the Brexit agreement inked with the EU aimed at resolving long-standing trade issues in the region.

Sunak is currently touring Northern Ireland to sell the new "Windsor Framework" agreed between the UK and European Commission President Ursula von der Leyen in Windsor on Monday, which replaces the controversial Northern Ireland Protocol which caused trade disputes and severely strained UK-EU relations.

Sunak later made a statement in the House of Commons to declare that the new deal delivers "free-flowing trade" for UK territory Northern Ireland with the rest of Britain by "removing any sense of the border in the Irish Sea" and creates a red lane system to resolve issues with bordering EU member-state Ireland.

"I'm really pleased, in fact, I'm over the moon that yesterday, we managed to have a decisive breakthrough with our negotiations with the EU," Sunak said.

"It's about stability in Northern Ireland. It's about real people and real businesses. It's about showing that our Union, which has lasted for centuries, can and will endure. And it's about breaking down the barriers between us," he said.

Sunak insisted that the new framework puts the people of Northern Ireland in charge with active democratic consent by adding a new 'Stormont Brake.' This indicates that the devolved Parliament at Stormont in Belfast, backed by the UK, can veto new EU goods laws not supported by all communities in Northern Ireland.

While the new framework has been generally well received, it has yet to secure the backing of the Democratic Unionist Party (DUP), Northern Ireland's largest pro-UK party, which is needed to resume power-sharing in the province.

British PM Rishi Sunak | AFP

The DUP has been refusing to re-enter the devolved government in Belfast for a year, mainly in protest at the protocol, which it said cut Northern Ireland adrift from the rest of the UK.

DUP leader Jeffrey Donaldson said the party would assess whether the agreement met its tests for returning to the Stormont assembly. Agencies

TOMAHAWK BUY

20% jump in Japan's def budget to take on China

TOKYO

THE lower house of Parliament on Tuesday approved a budget for the coming fiscal year that includes a record $50 billion in defence spending, part of Japan's effort to fortify its military as China's influence in the region grows.

The 2023 defence budget, up 20% from a year earlier, includes $1.55 billion for deployment of US-made long-range Tomahawk cruise missiles.

The planned purchase of the Tomahawks has drawn criticism over the cost, with opposition lawmakers blasting PM Fumio Kishida for prioritising arms spending over other issues. "The improvement of childcare has been neglected for more than 10 years," Chinami Nishimura, a lawmaker with the opposition Constitutional Democratic Party of Japan, said on Tuesday. "Why did the budget for spending so much money on Tomahawks get approved so quickly?"

"I don't think it's about choosing between one or the other," Kishida said. "Both are important for...people."

Kishida has called Japan's rapidly aging and shrinking population a national crisis. A new government department, the Children and Families Agency, is due to be launched in April to help coordinate government policies on various social issues.

The budget allocates $35 billion for the new agency, but experts say more funding and broader social changes are needed. AP

Want new citizens who know nation: Oppn leader

Singapore's Indian-origin opposition leader Pritam Singh has said that the city-state wants new citizens who embrace the Singapore way of life, contrary to those who solely want the country's powerful passport and a haven for their assets. Speaking in parliament, Singh said, "We want those who truly know Singapore and want to embrace the Singapore way of life. We want those who really want to live here and be there." Singh noted that with the nation's total fertility rate dropping to a historic low of 1.05 in 2022, new citizens would become even more crucial to the future of Singapore. The opposition leader cited Switzerland's example, which has a highly specific selection process for new citizens that entails applicants showing themselves to be 'successfully integrated' into the country

Migrants paid $8,000 for voyage of death in Italy

CROTONE

RESCUE teams pulled more bodies from the sea on Tuesday, bringing the death toll from Italy's latest migration tragedy to 65, as prosecutors identified suspected smugglers who allegedly charged nearly $8,500 each for the "voyage of death" from Turkey to Italy.

Italy's customs police said in a statement that organisers of the crossing charged 8,000 euros (around $8,500) each for the "voyage of death."

Crotone prosecutor Giuseppe Capoccia confirmed investigators had identified three suspected smugglers, a Turk and two Pakistani nationals. A second Turk is believed to have escaped or died in the wreck.

Authorities delayed a planned viewing of the coffins to allow more time for identification of the bodies, as more and more desperate relatives and friends arrived in the Calabrian city of Crotone in hopes of finding their loved ones, some of whom hailed from Afghanistan.

"I am looking for my aunt and her three children," said Aladdin Mohibzada, adding that he drove 25 hours from Germany to reach the makeshift morgue set up at a sports stadium. He said he had ascertained that his aunt and two of the children died, but that a 5-year-old survived and was being housed in a center for minors.

Rescuers cover a body washed up on the beach in Crotone on Tuesday | AFP

At least 65 people, including 14 minors, died. 80 people survived, but dozens more are feared dead since survivors indicated the boat had carried about 170 people when it set off last week from Izmir, Turkey.

Aid groups at the scene have said many of the passengers hailed from Afghanistan, including entire families, as well as from Pakistan, Syria and Iraq.

Rescue teams pulled two bodies from the sea on Tuesday, bringing the toll to 65, police said. AP

Thailand, US resume Cobra Gold military drills

Thai and US officials officially opened annual Cobra Gold multinational military exercises on Tuesday, now restored to one of the world's largest following 3 years of pandemic, reinforcing security alliances of the US and six Asian nations

PARTICIPANTS

Singapore, Japan, Indonesia, South Korea and Malaysia are full participants in the two-week planning and field exercises, which are co-hosted by the Royal Thai Armed Forces and the US Indo-Pacific Command

More than 3,800 US TROOPS and 3,000 THAI personnel will participate

HUMANITARIAN DRILLS: China, India and Australia

PLANNING & EXECUTION OF OPERATIONS: Bangladesh, Canada, France, Mongolia, Nepal, New Zealand, the Philippines, Fiji, the United Kingdom and Brunei

OBSERVERS: Cambodia, Laos, Brazil, Pakistan, Vietnam, Germany, Sweden, Greece, Kuwait, and Sri Lanka

23 countries are joining as exercise partners or observers for a total of 7,394 personnel participating in a variety of security and humanitarian drills

Thai Chief of Defence Forces Gen. Chalermpol Srisawasdi (L) with Commander of US Indo-Pacific Command Admiral John Aquilino | AP

STRAINED RELATIONS

But this year's full-scale return comes as relations between the co-hosts have come under long-term strain. Thailand is a traditional ally of the United States but has built increasingly closer security ties with China

There has also been resentment in the Thai military and government over US criticism of military coups that ousted elected governments in 2006 and 2014

WHAT IS COBRA GOLD?

Cobra Gold began as a joint Thai-US maritime exercise in 1982 and has evolved into a much larger operation. It consists of three parts—field training, a "command post" staff exercise, and disaster relief and humanitarian exercises

For the first time, the command post exercise will include training on possible space disasters such as solar storms, on military operations, communication systems, and satellites, that will help staff to prepare for these phenomena

The humanitarian exercises include the construction of school buildings at six sites, a "tabletop exercise" to practice coordination in case of natural disasters, and live search and rescue, emergency response, medical evacuation, chemical leak, and firefighting drills

Field training will consist of an amphibious exercise, a strategic airborne operation, noncombatant evacuation, and a combined arms live-fire exercise

Suspected schoolgirl poisoning attacks rattle a shaken Iran

TEHRAN

DOZENS of Iranian schoolgirls needed hospital treatment on Tuesday after another mysterious poisoning, a news agency reported, the latest in a spate of suspected attacks in the Islamic republic.

Hundreds of cases of respiratory distress have been reported in the past three months among schoolgirls mainly in the holy city of Qom, south of Tehran, with some needing hospitalisation.

A government official said on Sunday that the attacks were believed to be a deliberate attempt to force the closure of girls' schools.

"Today (Tuesday) at noon, a number of students were poisoned at the Khayyam Girls' School in the city of Pardis, Tehran province," Tasnim news agency reported.

It said 35 students had been taken to hospital so far, adding to hundreds of cases of reported poisoning since November in at least two other cities including Qom.

On Sunday, students at a girls' school in Borujerd were rushed to hospital after a poisoning incident.

Parliament held a meeting on Tuesday to discuss the suspected attacks. The session was attended by Health Minister Bahram Eynollahi, IRNA reported. IRNA quoted speaker Mohammad Bagher Ghalibaf as saying that both Qom and Borujerd were "dealing with student poisonings."

The suspected poisonings were being investigated, Iran's police chief told Tasnim on Tuesday. "Our priority is to find the origin of this case, and until then we will not judge whether it was intentional or not," it quoted Ahmad-Reza Radan as saying. "We have not yet arrested anyone in this case and we are identifying possible suspects," the police chief added.

On Sunday the deputy health minister, Younes Panahi, said some people had been poisoned at a girls' school in Qom, in a bid to shut down education for girls. "After the poisoning of several students in Qom schools, it was found that some people wanted all schools, especially girls' schools, to be closed," IRNA quoted him as saying at the time. AFP

The Supreme Court recently deployed an Artificial Intelligence-based live transcription tool during court proceedings on an experimental basis. Behind the initiative are city-based startup founders who share how the tech can modernise the legal landscape

COURTING SUCCESS

DESE GOWDA

LAST week, the Supreme Court witnessed a historic moment in the Indian legal landscape. The proceedings of the case pertaining to the Election Commission's order on the Shiv Sena party symbol and name, were transcribed in real time using an Artificial Intelligence-based tool. Developed by a Bengaluru-based startup Nomology Technology, the tool attempts to modernise the legal proceedings in the country.

"Real-time transcription brings an element of accountability from all the stakeholders. Judges and litigators can no longer make off-the-cuff remarks. Now, their actions are under scrutiny. It also makes it easier for litigators to review arguments from the day and avoid repeating themselves, enable translations of the proceedings, thereby making it more accessible to people who might not speak English. Most importantly, it makes the proceeding efficient. Currently, each question during a cross-examination might take about five minutes, as the questions and answers from the lawyers and the person testifying is summarised by the judge to the stenographer to be recorded. With real-time transcription, that can be avoided," says Vikas Mahendra, co-founder of Nomology Technology.

With several years of experience as an arbitration practitioner in England, France and Singapore, Mahendra was taken aback by the lack of proper infrastructure to record court proceedings when he returned home to start a domestic practice in 2015. "A lot of the support mechanisms that were available internationally are not available here. The lack of transcription was glaring. The situation was such that if you wanted transcription, the only choice was to fly down trained transcribers abroad. I sat down with my brother Vinay [Mahendra] and brother-in-law Badarivishal [Kinhal] –both with engineering backgrounds, and started discussing what it is that we can do," he shares.

Currently, only a miniscule portion of a court proceeding is recorded across the different forums in the country. In lower courts, especially, apart from evidence presentation, virtually nothing else is recorded. Even the miniscule portion that is recorded is often summarised, and as dictated by the judge to the stenographer. Essentially making it hard to piece together the exact happenings of a proceeding. However, Mahendra feels that recording every single detail from a proceeding is not worthwhile given the sheer volume of cases that pass through the system each year. But, for certain elements, such as witness cross-examination, judgements and evidence presentation, recording and proper transcription can play a crucial role. "We recently had a case where a witness statement was recorded, as summarised by the judge. Later, when the same witness was asked to sign their statement, they refused, saying that's not what they had said. In such cases, it's the judge's word against the witness', and usually the judge's word prevails," he explains.

Founded in 2018, Nomology Technology built the transcription engine based on an open-source natural language models. The resulting platform, 'Technology Enabled Resolution' has various facets to suit different needs, from live transcription to post recording transcription, as well as the ability to accurately detect different accents of people across the country and has undergone over 1,500 hours of testing in arbitration hearings. "The platform is constantly evolving. We are also not married on one particular language model," explains Badarivishal Kinha, operations head and co-founder.

Yet adoption had remained slow, until a chance encounter with Chief Justice of India DY Chandrachud in Delhi this month helped change minds. "We decided to transcribe the Delhi arbitration weekend, the flagship event of the Delhi High Court, this month. One of the keynote speakers was Chandrachud, who incidentally, spoke about the need for transcription. That prompted us to speak to him on the sidelines, during which we told him about our work. He asked us to connect with his office. Within a few days, we had set up the infrastructure and did our first transcription," shares Mahendra, adding they didn't seek financial compensation for the trial, which helped accelerate the process.

This short film from a city-based filmmaker is a lighthearted comedy drama which will remind audiences of Hrishikesh Mukherjee's repertoire of films

MONIKA MONALISA

FILTER Coffee Aur Masala Chai will surely remind you of the breezy light hearted movies from the '70s. The second in the Families short film trilogy, this is performed by danseuse Savitha Sastry and directed by AK Srikanth.

Filter Coffee Aur Masala Chai brings together several cine and television artistes from the north and south, including Monika Shah, Zeeba Ashrin, Kowsalya Natarajan, Sridhar, Vinay Sachdeva and Parminder Singh Shah, who play important supporting roles. The film, based on a typical Delhi family, focuses on a Punjabi-Tamil couple and their eccentric relatives. While the film centres around the character played by Savitha, every supporting actor also has unique characterisations that makes the whole film believable.

The film is based on the short story written by Srikanth, and is an allegory on the diversity and unity of India as represented through a typical Indian family. "The family that is in the film basically represents our country. We fight about petty things but when something serious happens, we forget our diverse culture and stand up together. This is our ode to India," says Srikanth.

Like their previous film Arangetram, Filter Coffee Aur Masala Chai too is a breezy comedy - one that can be enjoyed by the whole family together. "I just took a lead from stalwarts like Hrishikesh Mukherjee and Basu Bhattacharya where families can sit together and watch, something like Amol Palekar's movie like Gol Maal. Both Savitha and I are huge fans of Hrishi da's movie," says Srikanth, who had previously made movies like Descent, Beyond the Rains, Dvija and The Colors Trilogy. He further added, "Dveja was quite an intense film to make. Savitha and I were discussing why we shouldn't make something light hearted."

Savitha, who plays the lead in the movie, is seen playing the role of a dancer. Since dance is her comfort language, Savitha says she went with the director's vision and used it as an element wherever required. "He does not let me get carried away with dance. He has a very clear vision of the story. If you reach out to me as a dancer, I will put dance everywhere whether necessary or not. Sri takes off all those elements that do not have to be there. And I have learnt to think like that," says Savitha, adding there is one dance element with children to keep that 'Indianness' of the film.

GETTING THE SHOW ON THE ROAD

Actor Shine Shetty's food truck endeavour 'Galli Kitchen' recently expanded into a permanent location in RR Nagar

Actor Shine Shetty with Ashwini Puneeth Rajkumar | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

DESE GOWDA

AT the start of the 2010s, a fresh-face 20-year-old from Udupi district on coastal Karnataka arrived in Bengaluru to try his luck in Gandhinagar. Through years of effort, he quickly established himself as a household name through the success of his roles in several popular TV serials such as Meera Madhava and Lakshmi Baramma. But his goal of making a name for himself in the cinema industry still remained out of reach.

In 2017, the then 26-year-old Shine Shetty decided to risk it all and quit a lucrative career in television and focus entirely on cinema. But despite his best efforts, the projects that he had hoped would give the break in cinema failed to take off. Facing a financial crunch and refusing to go back to television as a potential failure, he decided to use his entrepreneurial skills and open a food truck business.

"Galli Kitchen was only a matter of survival. I originally intended to continue in the kitchen until I could get a break in cinema and then stop. I had no intention of building it as a brand. But wherever I am today, including winning Bigg Boss (Kannada) is all due to Galli Kitchen," Shetty shares. "I had no clear source of income after quitting television, but I still had to keep up appearances. That meant I was in quite a bit of debt. I went from eating out every day without a second thought to doing grocery shopping and learning to cook at home. Once I got the hang of cooking, I wondered if I could use it to get myself a steady source of income, while pursuing my career in acting."

Started in 2019 with a modest investment from a close friend, a beaten down auto rickshaw and his recently-acquired cooking skills, Galli Kitchen soon became popular beyond anything that Shetty could have imagined. Serving an attractive menu filled with a mix of dishes from coastal and South Karnataka, including neer dose kai bella, sabbaki idly, goli baje and Mangalore buns at affordable prices, the food truck soon became a popular destination for foodies in South Bengaluru.

Now, after nearly four years, a few disruptions from the pandemic, Shetty has expanded Galli Kitchen with a permanent location in Rajarajeshwari Nagar, which was recently inaugurated by Ashwini Puneeth Rajkumar. But, the decision to start the endeavour was anything but smooth. Having come from a family of restaurateurs, Shetty was adamant that he would be successful, despite pessimism from his own family. "My father was the first person to discourage me. He told me to go back to TV serials, as I had plenty of offers. But I didn't want to go back without having done anything in cinema. It would be a failure and I couldn't accept that," he says, adding that once the food truck started to do well, however, his family started to help him with the day-to-day running of the business.

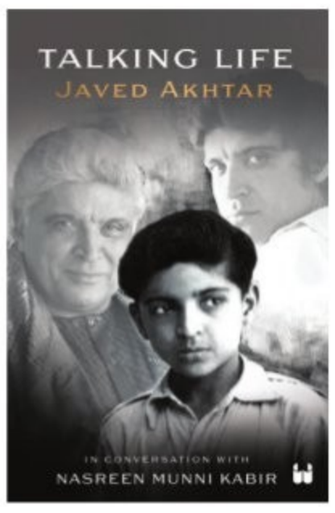
'EVEN IN THE WORST OF TIMES I HAD NO DOUBT I WOULD MAKE IT ONE DAY'

TURNING PAGES



IN a freewheeling chat between Javed Akhtar and Nasreen Munni Kabir, Akhtar speaks with honesty about the ups and downs of his extraordinary life. Excerpts:

NMK: You really lived through tough times. I mean sleeping on a plank across wooden crates.

JA: Those days have not left me because I still have vivid memories of those times. I am so grateful to life for having given me so much. Imagine where I started.

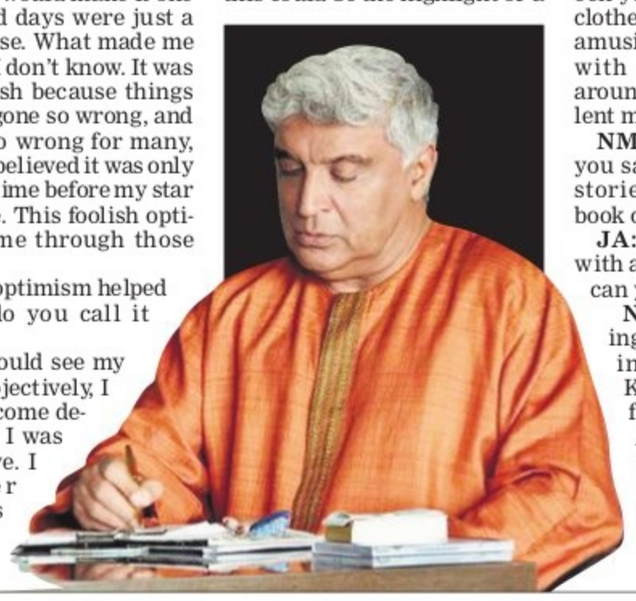
If I am having a grand meal or eating some delicacy, I ask myself, do I deserve this? When I am sitting in my car and I look outside the window and see people walking on the street or I see families living on the pavement, I ask myself, am I smarter and more talented than each one of them? There has to be someone in this crowd who must be extremely talented in some field but just could not get the right opportunity. Sometimes, it is just a random chance that puts you in the right place at the right time.

NMK: Did you ever think of giving it all up?

JA: There were some desperate moments, but it never occurred to me to give up, or to commit suicide or anything like that. I look at my past today and I'm amazed by the optimism I had and wonder why it never abandoned me. Even in the worst of times I had no doubt that I would make it one day, and bad days were just a passing phase. What made me think that? I don't know. It was totally foolish because things could have gone so wrong, and things do go wrong for many, but I firmly believed it was only a matter of time before my star would shine. This foolish optimism saw me through those bad times.

NMK: If optimism helped you, why do you call it foolish?

JA: If I could see my situation objectively, I could've become depressed. So, I was not objective. I remember when I was eighteen, my last pair of decent trousers got badly torn and there was no way I could wear them. It was a real problem, and it upset me, though somewhere at the back of my mind, I was happy it had happened, because I thought this could be the highlight of a book I'd write when I became somebody. Here was an eighteen-year-old boy who had no clothes to wear yet found it all amusing. I stayed in my room with a bed sheet wrapped around me till a friend of mine lent me a pair of trousers.



NMK: It's interesting how you saw events in your life as stories to be recounted in a book one day.

JA: Yes. What can you do with a man who is crazy? How can you demoralise him?

NMK: I remember reading a story about you sleeping in a costume room at Kamal Studio where you found the Filmfare Awards statuettes belonging to Meena Kumari. Did that really happen?

JA: It's a true story. At one point I was told by Kamal Amrohi's staff that I could live in an unused room where they stored costumes and props from the production of Pakeezah. There were many cupboards and drawers full of things, including artificial jewellery, clothes for men and women, shoes for the extras, etc.

One evening I opened a drawer and found several pairs of sandals. And right in the middle of those sad-looking, worn-out sandals I found three Filmfare Awards statuettes. I took them out of the drawer to examine them closely and realised they belonged to Meena Kumari — they were awards for her earlier films. I dusted the statuettes and put them in a row near the big mirror that dominated the room. In those days Filmfare Awards were like the Oscars for us and besides the National Award, this was the only film award we knew about. Whenever I found myself alone in that room, I locked the door from the inside, stood in front of the mirror with the statuette in my hand, and posed as if I had been awarded this trophy. The audience clapped and cheered me on, and I'd wave to them in recognition of their admiration. That was the first time I held a Filmfare Awards statuette in my hands and just imagine, here I was holding a statuette won by the great Meena Kumari!

NMK: I wonder if the director Farah Khan, Honey Irani's niece and therefore related to you, ever heard or read this story. She has a very similar scene in Om Shanti Om in which Shah Rukh Khan is holding a film award and giving an acceptance speech. It's all imaginary in the character's mind.

JA: Well, I have written about this incident, but I have serious doubts concerning Farah's reading habits! It's quite difficult to believe she would have read about it. [smiles] So I think she could have very well thought up the idea on her own.

Book on inspiring tales of Muslim women out

EXPRESS FEATURES

RECENTLY, Rising Beyond the Ceiling launched their hardcover edition of Rising Beyond The Ceiling Karnataka publication, after releasing an e-book version of the same in November 2022. With 100 stereotype-shattering stories of inspiring Muslim women from Karnataka, the book is authored by Dr Farah Usmani and co-authored by Dr Zoya Fatehally and Aiman Ansari. Former Governor of Goa, Gujarat, Rajasthan and Uttarakhand, Margaret Alva was the chief guest while director Saad Khan hosted the evening's launch party.

"Rising Beyond The Ceiling was born out of the need to change the stereotypical narrative about Muslim women in India," said Fatehally.

"The need to change the narrative behind the stereotype about Indian Muslim women not contributing to the nation much and how Muslim women are known for getting married and having a lot of kids and not working was one of the inspirations that drew to author such a book," said Aiman Ansari, the co-author.

PITY THY NEIGHBOUR?

HRIDAY RANJAN
Urban Bourbon
(Writer, comedian)

PAKISTAN is going through its worst crisis in the last few decades. Their economy is crumbling, and their Forex reserves are said to last for only three more weeks. Which means their economy could crumble before Pathaan completes its theatrical run. The people are suffering to fight an inflation dangling at 25% for daily essentials like petrol and rice. Pakistan is also suffering from the threat of an emboldened Taliban that is operating both out of Afghanistan, and its Pakistani 'on-site' division – the Tehrik-e Taliban Pakistan. The situation is so dire that it makes me feel bad. Now, before you accuse me of being an 'anti-national prostitute', allow me to clarify my feelings.

Till the '80s, Pakistan's economy was actually performing much better than India's. While India's growth rate languished at a measly 3% and was mocked around the world as the 'Hindu rate of growth', Pakistan enjoyed the benefits of cotton and jute exports. Even in cricket, Pakistan was easily the stronger team. A win against Pakistan was rare and memorable, and their bowlers mastered the reverse swing even as our batsmen were still dealing with regular swing. But as India chugged forward using the reforms of 1991, Pakistan has struggled to find any stability since. The Pakistan Army controls the day-to-day operations of the elected government – a stark difference to India where the Army is looked at as aspirational and inspirational. The differences are more than just economic. India boasts of a multi-cultural fabric whereas Pakistan suffers from the problems that usually befall a country governed by religious laws. Conservatism has held the nation back, and it is easier for Pakistanis to reverse-swing the cricket ball, than swing the other way!

Post 2010, there simply hasn't been any competition. To know how much Pakistan matters in our day-to-day affairs, simply pick up a newspaper and look at the headlines. While Pakistan used to be a standard fixture in our newspapers till the last decade, it barely features in the news now. India has moved far ahead, and is now the fifth largest economy in the world. Pakistan meanwhile has continued to deal with the same issues, akin to the high-school bully you meet when you go back to your native place. The attacks of 26/11 was the final straw that broke the camel's back, and eliminated all options of a reconciliation.

Looking at Pakistan today makes you appreciate our nation. Whatever be our political or ideological issues, we have survived as a democracy (except that 21-month blip in the form of the Emergency). Pakistan has had a total of 29 Prime Ministers so far, and not one of them has completed their term of five years. Some, like Nawaz Sharif have been elected as the Prime Minister thrice, but haven't completed a single full term. For all practical matters, Pakistan today is not considered an equal, but a lesser brother – like an Arbaaz Khan or a Sanjay Kapoor.

Then why does my heart go out to Pakistanis? That's because a nation is not its not politicians, or its army. A nation is not its lawmakers, or its businessmen. A nation is its people; those that are struggling for food, fuel and education. We may be going through a bountiful period in our history now, but not many decades ago, we were suffering from the same problems. Perhaps helping Pakistan will prove that we are no more competitors. That we are the elder sibling. There, I have said something that can qualify as 'anti-national'. But please don't ask me to go to Pakistan -- how on earth am I supposed to endure 25% inflation?!?

Sunil Raoh

Sunil Raoh to headline Veer Savarkar biopic

The film will be helmed by Radhakrishna Pallaki, and the team will begin shooting from March 25

CE FEATURES

SUNIL Raoh is an actor and singer who has carved a niche on his own, playing a variety of roles in his career. Particularly known for his versatile acting, Sunil, who has worked across varied genres, is all set to be star in the biopic of Veer Savarkar. The film will be helmed by Radhakrishna Pallaki, who quit his job in Railways, joined theatre, and acted in 50-plus movies, and directed five films, which includes Sri Kshetra Kaivarathatayai, and Chaitrada Chandramma among others. This will be his first biopic, and he's done six months of research on the subject.

Sharing his excitement about playing the role of Veer Savarkar, (the freedom fighter, activist and writer), Sunil says, "The director is bringing out the accounts of Veer Savarkar's life that is already in the public domain, and we will begin shooting from March 25. I'm happy to play the role of such an important figure in Indian history. As an actor, I don't look at any particular perspective, and I see it as an opportunity to play a compelling role. It will be challenging to play a character of such stature."

Radhakrishna Pallaki

Talking about what is expected of him in the biopic, Sunil says, "I have to undergo some kind of transformation for the film, but it will be gradual. The film will offer a gamut of emotions for me to perform, and it is something that contemporary subjects might not allow me to. It won't be just another role, and I am getting prepared for the same."

With Sunil playing Veer Savarkar, the cast also includes noted artists like Sai Kumar, Anu Prabhakar, Ravi Shankar, and Rangayana Raghu. The makers are also planning to rope Anupam Kher to play a pivotal character.

Bankrolled by KN Chakrapani under the Hondaavare Films banner, the makers have roped in KS Chandrashekar as the cinematographer, and Thriller Manju for the stunts. With Gautam Pallaki onboard as the editor, Sam will be composing music for the biopic.

Vikram Ravichandran

Sanjana Anand

CE FEATURES

VIKRAM Ravichandran has begun shooting for his second film, a gangster drama, directed by Karthik Rajan. With the shooting currently underway in Bengaluru, there is a lot of buzz surrounding the film's heroine. Speculations are rife that Sanjana Anand has been roped in to play the female lead.

This project is the latest in the Salaga heroine's lineup of films, including Dinakar Thoogudeepa's Royal, starring Virat. An official announcement about Sanjana being part of Vikram's next is expected to be out soon.

Bankrolled by Raksha and Vijay Kumar, the film will have Vikram Ravichandran taking care of production too under his newly relaunched Eswari Production.

In a previous interaction with CE, Vikram mentioned that the script will have a raw treatment.

Having helmed a Tamil webseries, this project will be the first Kannada film of Karthik, who has previously collaborated with Tamil director Vijay Chandar, and has served as the writer of the Telugu film, Raju Gari Gadi 2.

The film, which will be shot in Bengaluru and Shivamogga, will have music by Yuvaraj, and editing by PK.

My character in 19.20.21 tells the story of people who don't have a voice: Shrunga Vasudevan

CE FEATURES

ACTOR Shrunga Vasudevan, best known for his role in Ring Master, Ring Road and Chronicles of Hari, is playing a unique role in Mansore's upcoming film, 19.20.21. "It is a huge honour for being trusted to play this role," says Shrunga, adding, "I play the role of Manju, a college student from an Adivasi community. He is the first person from his community to go to college. He is forced to go through a long legal battle for being falsely accused of a grave crime."

19.20.21 is based on a true incident, and according to Shrunga, Mansore has a well-researched and comprehensive understanding of the story and situation. "Also, the legal points made in both ACT 1978 and in 19.20.21 are very informative and precise. Working with a filmmaker who puts in so much effort for the script is an honour." he admits.

What is the intended message given through 19.20.21? "Constitution can be used to fight injustice, irrespective of the odds. In a very realistic way, without any unnecessary buildup, this film tells the story of people who don't have a voice."

The film, produced by Devaraj R, is slated to release on March 3, and stars Balaji Manohar, MD Pallavi, Rajesh Nataranga, Avinash, Mahadev Hadapad, Vishwa Karna, and Venkatesh Prasad in key roles.

'I DESERVE A BIG BREAK IN SANDALWOOD'

...says Bigg Boss Season 5 contestant and Kannada actor Shruti Prakash, talking about her upcoming film Kadala Theerada Bhargava slated to release this week

Shruti Prakash

CE FEATURES

SHRUTI Prakash admits that her stint in Bigg Boss Kannada Season 5 was a game-changer. The actor, who later, forayed into doing Kannada films, and has done around half a dozen to date, admits that she is still waiting to get that big break in Sandalwood. "The reality show came to me after two shows in Hindi and this platform introduced me as Sruthi Prakash, and not through any film character, which I felt was an advantage. Thereafter, whatever projects I got in, (except for the upcoming film, Grey Games with Vijay Raghavendra) I have been part of new production houses and worked with new directors. I just went by my gut feeling, and the faith I had in the story and the making. I deserve some more good projects."

Shruthi feels that she has proven her skills time and again, "I have proved that I am a good actor, singer and dancer. I want my work to speak for itself, and be chosen for my talent. Secondly, irrespective of where I live, at the end of the day, my performance on the silver screen matters. I have to make sure that I reach the heart of the audience, with varied roles," says Sruthi as she gears for the release of the third film, Kadala Theerada Bhargava, which is slated to hit the theatres this week.

Throwing light on the film directed by Pannaga Somashekar, Sruthi says, "Audience thought it is a triangular love story going by the poster which features two guys and a girl, but, it is not the case. The director has sketched a strong central character for the female lead, who will have a presence throughout the film, either on screen or as a part of the narrative. It is not a cliched romantic drama. Love is part of the film, but the film is not just about that," she says.

Her character Impana in Kadala Theerada Bhargava supposedly has many layers. "She is figuring out her position in life when it comes to love, her parents and aunt. She is happy at places, and sometimes zoned out; she is sensitive at times too. How she takes the situations, and circumstances that lead her towards destiny forms the crux of the story," Shruti explains.

Shruti has a Hindi web series and a feature film in the pipeline. An official announcement from the production house is awaited, she is also awaiting the release of two films, which are slated to release in the coming months. Meanwhile, Shruthi, who is a good singer, is working on a single. "I have been taking my singing career seriously, and aiming to form my own brand. That's my agenda for 2023," she signs off.

Patel Varun Raju

Bharath Gowda

Pannaga Somashekar

Pannaga Somashekar can connect all characters with varied emotions

Patel Varun Raju, who plays one of the leads, along with Bharat also doubles up as a producer for Kadala Theerada Bhargava. "We didn't have anyone coming forward to invest in newcomers. Nor we had anybody from the industry to support us. So I along with Bharath, who also plays the other lead, took the risk of bankrolling the project. Moreover, we had faith in our friend, Pannaga's script, and his making." He shares that Kadala Theerada Bhargava delivers various emotions through the characters. "Pannaga has a personal connection with all characters. He has infused emotional quotient, through Bharath's role, and I as Bhargave bring in aggression. While Shruthi's character brings in the love and family sentiment, Sridhar's role showcases the pain, and Raghav Nag's character takes on jealousy. The director has given importance to content, and roles, but with a commercial touch."
